Clean-up of Criminal Aliens Is On; Seattle Fiasco Ended

HOW THE MAP OF EUROPE MAY LOOK AT FINISH OF THE PEACE CONFERENCE

It is now possible to indicate, in rough outline at least, what is likely to be the map of new Europe, which will be born of the Peace Conference.

The composition of new Germany, and whether there will be a drawing together of some elements of old Germany with the German elements of old Austria, is not for the moment more than one of the speculative problems before the Paris conference.

The new map of Central Europe, which it is within the scope of the conference's powers to draw, shows five great states, friendly to the Allies: First, Poland, on the north, with access to the sea; second, Czecho-Slovakia, embodying the Slovak districts of the Hungarian borderland, with Bohemia in the center; third, a greater Rumania; fourth, an enlarged South Slav kingdom (Jugo-Slovakia,) with the Montenegrin prince regent at its head, and, fifth, a greater Greece.

Austria and Hungary will not only be much reduced in size, but will have no seaboards of their own. But for them, as for Poland and Bohemia, access to the sea must be secured if there is to be a good peace.

Premier Venizelos has concluded his presentation of the claims for a greater Greece before the council of ten and has made out an extremely good case. The Italian delegates have issued a statement indicating their sympathetic attitude. This is taken to mean that the understanding between Italy and Greece is within reach.

Greek interests in Constantinople and its district will be safeguarded by internalionalization of that territory and its railroads and waterways.

PEACE ULTIMATUM FROM JAPAN TO CHINA, RUMOR.

Peking Government is Told She Must Work in Harmony at Paris or Suffer Financial Pressure.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Japan has notified China that China must work in harmony with Japan at the Peace Conference and must undertake not to reveal to the conference secret Chino-Japanese agreements, says a Reuter's dispatch dated Peking, February 1. The correspondent said his information comes from Chinese sources, and Reuter's says it should be regarded with some reserve.

According to the dispatch, Japan stipulated that failure by China to give such assurances would result in effective Japanese financial pressure on China.

PARIS, Feb. 10.—President Wilson has been accorded the honor of being designated as the one who will issue the formal call to the nations of the world to join the society of nations after its machinery has been set up by the Peace Conference, it was stated today.

The question of moving the Peace Conference from Paris to a neutral city may be considered if the reason for it is what is characterized as the obstructive policy of the Italian press and certain French officials, it developed today. Representatives of various other countries take part in the Peace Conference, it is declared, believe that the work of the body is being greatly delayed through unfriendly criticism by the French press of various matters in the conference.

SOCIETY OF NATIONS.

Leading members of the conference express confidence that these reports clarifying certain points in ambiguous language in the plan for the society of nations presented to the special commission on the formation of the society at today's meeting. The special commission virtually completed the plan at this session of the Peace Conference this week before President Wilson returned to leave for the United States.

The permanent international court of justice to the organization. The plan for the society itself is to be submitted by the representatives of the powers here. Credit for the organization will be given to the United States.

The Peace Conference Commission will then begin to consider the stirring developments which seems to follow.

The commission has not met thus far, even to organize, the conference having gotten along entirely without the right of any of the delegates to their seats being challenged, which probably is without precedent in the history of such gatherings.

It was stated, however, that the Commitee on Credentials would conduct any investigation found necessary, of the sufficiency of the papers brought by each delegate, and that it would await the arrival of all the delegates before undertaking the work.

Rumors have been current recently that there was another reason for the delay—the apprehension that objections would be immediately lodged against the presence of some persons who have already occupied seats in the conference, and who, it is declared, are accredited by organizations that have no existence as governments.

Leading members of the conference express confidence that these persons have a proper status in the body, have sanctioned their presence and have even admitted some of them to membership in the principal commissions, and it is understood that the conference leaders do not desire to have an issue raised now in this connection that might interfere with the smooth progress of the peace-making work.

COMMENT.

Commenting on the interview given by Premier Clemenceau to the Associated Press, which occupies the place of honor in all the Paris newspapers today, Alfred Capus, in the Figaro, says:

"With its vigorous and hardy pessimism, it is an act of ardent patriotism. It is just the plain language which it is fitting to talk to France and her allies at the present mo-

LINNARD SEEKS TO ACQUIRE THE POTTER

LEAVES FOR SANTA BARBARA TO CONTINUE NEGOTIATIONS FOR HOTEL.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—D. M. Linnard, head of the Linnard string of hotels, left today for Santa Barbara, where, it is reported, he will negotiate for the Potter Hotel. Mr. Linnard recently took over control of the Fairmont and Palace hotels here, which he added to his three at Pasadena and one in Atlantic City, N. J. Since then Mr. Linnard has announced plans for a big tourist hotel in Los Angeles and has launched a drive to attract tourists to California, saying he will spend thousands of dollars in advertising the attractions of California.

Asked by long-distance telephone at Santa Barbara last night concerning the San Francisco report that D. M. Linnard, head of a chain of six California hotels operated by the California Hotel Company, is to take over the Potter Hotel, Milo Potter, its proprietor, said that there had been some talk between Mr. Linnard and himself, but that he does not believe there is any prospect of a change at present.

Soldiers Going to Other Camps to be Discharged.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CAMP KEARNY (San Diego) Feb. 10.—Several hundred more men from the Sixteenth Division, in process of demobilization here, will be sent to other camps this week for discharge from the service. About 400 will be sent to the Presidio at San Francisco, 250 to Camp Grant, Ill., and 100 to Camp Lewis, Wash.

About 200 officers who have been holding National Army commissions took physical examinations today for commissions in the regular army.

INFANTRY DEFIES I.W.W.'S.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

JEROME (Ariz.) Feb. 10.—Lieut. John Sellers, organizing a detachment of twenty-five men of the Third Infantry, defied a strike committee, said to have been recruited from the ranks of I.W.W., when it called on him tonight, saying it intended to lead an attack on the jail to release more than a score of men held on a charge of obstructing the streets. Lieut. Sellers said he and his men would be on hand ready for action if any attempt was made to execute the threat. So far no violence has resulted. Late tonight, the number of alleged strikers had grown to twenty-nine. The strike in Jerome started early today, when the copper producers put into effect the cut of 75 cents a day in the men's wages. About 250 men said to have been recruited from I.W.W. ranks met outside town and voted a general strike and to start picketing at 6 o'clock tonight.

It was said by police officers and mine officials that 90 per cent. of the strikers are unnaturalised foreigners, less than half of whom understand English.

HUN AGAIN A MENACE

Hosts Gathering Under Cover

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Feb. 10. — (British Wireless Service.) British newspapers of all opinions are devoting serious attention to the attitude adopted by the German government toward armistice conditions.

The Daily News' Paris correspondent sends a dispatch from "authoritative sources" saying his informant told him he had reason to believe Germany is not continuing to demobilize.

"She has concentrated more than eighteen divisions under Von Hindenburg on the western front," the correspondent says. "We also have the best reasons to believe that Germany is keeping her troops under arms on pretext of economic necessity. Some military authorities think Germany has sought more material to give necessary armament to 3,000,000 men. German demobilization is a condition to our demobilization, and therefore disbandment is impossible so long as Germany does not demobilize.

HUN MUST DEMOBILIZE.

"Allied military authorities consider the time has arrived for Germany to give up her military strength — that she be brought to such a condition she cannot resist the conditions of peace now being prepared. The Allied theory always has been that we shall frame conditions which Germany will have to accept and that there is nothing to discuss except details.

"For this reason, Germany is trying to keep up her military strength so she can send a delegate to the Peace Conference for a thorough military decision on the peace conditions imposed. On this point the French National Socialist party and its extreme Left wing is strongly opposed to anything being done to save Germany from the consequences of defeat. In this matter the French government will be supported by the entire nation."

The correspondent says he has been informed by a competent British authority that Marshal Foch "made a declaration of a somewhat serious character at a meeting of the supreme war council."

"He feels," this authority is quoted as saying, "that the Germans are beginning to forget they are beaten. They are apt to forget we are in a state of war. They have been slow in handing over transports and other things. They are causing a great deal of difficulty.

"We are demobilizing fast; they are not continuing to demobilize. There is danger of Germany saying, 'We do not care anything about your League of Nations and we have got our troops.' Unless a change takes place, we might be faced with a situation in which Germany, as regards the number of men in the field, will have three men against the Allies' two.

ADDITIONAL MEASURES.

"The question of demobilization has been taken up by the supreme war council. All the technical advisers have been in favor of taking what additional measures may be necessary to prevent any danger to the Allies or their positions or any donger of their not being able to dictate what peace terms they please."

The Paris correspondent of the Daily Mail credits Marshal Foch as having said to the supreme war council that there were many instances of Germany's failure to comply with the armistice terms, notably in the handing over of artillery, submarines and agricultural machinery.

"According to Marshal Foch's estimate, the Germans are capable of placing an army of 3,000,000 in the field in two months' time," the correspondent says.

"It is desired to make a renewal of the war impossible under the conditions to be laid down February 17. The terms suggested include the handing over of the whole of the German artillery, compulsory reduction of the German army to twenty-five divisions with machine guns for the internal policing of the empire, and occupation by the Allies of the Ruhr district, which includes Essen."

AGITATORS MUST GO

Purging of Country is Under Way

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 10. — A clean-up to rid the country of aliens with criminal records or regarded as a menace to the nation is under way by Federal officials, government officers said tonight.

A carload of undesirables will leave Chicago in a few days to be shipped back to the countries whence the came. Immigration officials made this known tonight as the fifty-four aliens hurried through Chicago Sunday en route back to Europe under heavy guard were nearing New York.

Forty of the prisoners came direct from Seattle, where they took part in fomenting the general strike, which paralyzed the industries of that city for several days.

Three leaders of the Seattle strike, one Spokane agitator, an I.W.W. leader from Denver and five alien convicts arrested in Chicago, were among the prisoners gathered into the Federal net.

The majority of the men were alien labor agitators picked up by officers of the United States immigration service during a year of secret campaigning in industrial centers of the Pacific Coast. A. D. D. Jackson, chief of the Seattle office of the immigration service, was in charge of the party.

ROAD OUT CLEAR.

"The proceedings against United States enemies of this type is simple," an official with the train said. "Just two hours before the Seattle strike was called we gathered forty agitators into the cars with everything cleared away between them and the middle of the Atlantic Ocean. For more than a year the immigration service has been working quietly in all industrial centers checking up on the aliens who have appeared and gathered evidence against I.W.W. leaders and troublemakers, who call themselves Bolsheviki.

"When evidence was compiled against this particular crowd each case was brought to a Federal hearing and all court findings sent to Washington, where they were reviewed by Secretary of Labor Wilson. The Secretary has the power to order this type of prisoner deported or released and so far there has been little trouble in getting quick action."

The majority of the prisoners will be sent back to Russian provinces. They are principally Norwegian, Swedes and Finns, according to guards on the train.

FRUSTRATE MOB.

The only attempt at a mob delivery of the prisoners was frustrated by the foresight of the Federal officials. Before the train reached Butte, officers were warned that the I.W.W. leaders in that city and Helena had learned of the deportation and were massing to deliver their comrades. The two cars, then attached to a regular train, were cut off at a junction and set into another train, which made a wide detour, missing both Butte and Helena.

Several hundred men gathered at the railroad station in Butte when the original train reached that point, according to reports which reached the officials. They were allowed to search the train and when they found the prisoners were not on board, they left without any trouble.

Only one of the prisoners made serious objection when told of the intention of the government to deport him. He swore out a writ of habeas corpus against deportation, which was quashed by a Federal court at Spokane.

One woman, the wife of a Finnish agitator, arrested in Spokane, was in the party.

The five prisoners taken into the party here are alien convicts, who were sentenced to deportation some time ago.

This is only the first of a series of trains that will carry undesirable citizens to coast ports, whence they will be deported, according to H. R. Landis, inspector in charg of immigration here.

Under a Congressional act of 1917 every alien convicted of a crime which calls for more than one year imprisonment must be deported to his native land.

AGITATORS IN BUTTE, WHERE "ALL IS RIPE."

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TACOMA, Feb. 10.—That "Paddy" Morris, local strike leader, who left Tacoma last week when the War Department ordered soldiers from Camp Lewis into Tacoma, is now in Butte, was reported at the Labor Temple today.

Last Wednesday night W. J. Beard, active in the strike movement here, is reported to have told the Central Labor Council members that "things were ripe in Butte," and urged exponents of the "revolutionary movement" to go there to help the "good work" along.

WORKERS ARE IN RUSH TO GET BACK THEIR JOBS; "WE WON'T FORGET"—MAYOR

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Feb. 10.—Efforts of the general strike committee to have all union men refrain from working until Seattle's general sympathy strike, the first of its kind in America, officially ends at 12 o'clock noon tomorrow, failed tonight when the executive committee of the Street Car Men's Union ordered the car men to their posts.

SEATTLE, Feb. 10.—Seattle's general strike was called off today by action of the general strike committee, which set 12 o'clock noon tomorrow as the hour for the men to return to work. Disintegration continued in union ranks today while the strike committee deliberated over the question of officially calling off the fiasco originally intended as a demonstration of the solidarity of union labor.

In an eleventh hour attempt to save waning prestige in their own ranks the general strike committee adopted a resolution urging those unions who had already gone back to work to walk out again so that all the 115 local unions could go back tomorrow together to "demonstrate the solidarity of labor." Chief interest tonight centers in the results of this effort to further strangle the city's industries.

Thousands of members of organized labor who left their jobs last Thursday, returned to work yesterday and today. These include approximately 1500 street car men and 1700 teamsters and truck drivers, two of the largest unions involved in the sympathetic strike.

"The calling off of the general sympathetic strike will not replace union labor in the high position it held in Seattle. Without reason, without cause, our city lay prostrate. Union labor must clean house. Seattle may forgive, but it cannot forget."

MAYOR HANSON PROPOSES NEW LAW.

Mayor Hanson also announced that he purposed bringing before the attention of the State Legislature, which is now in session in Olympia, a bill requiring every employee of the city and State governments and all essential industries to swear allegiance to the government above the claims of any union or other organization whatsoever, and forbidding every such employee to go out on any sympathetic strike without providing another man to take his place.

"The employee in a public utility department," said the Mayor, "has no more right to strike than the surgeon has to lay down his knife and let the patient die."

Public opinion was against the strike from the start and the Mayor, and his Chief of Police, J. F. Warren, were backed by thousands of citizens, returned soldiers, sailors and marines, who offered their services as peace officers.

The attempt of the radicals to set up a dress rehearsal of a Soviet regime by instituting eighteen public community feeding stations, a union grocery store and meat market, a union laundry and exercising a rationing control over the amount of milk each family should have, precipitated a storm of public disapproval. It was considered as an insane attempt at a revolution. The result was the bringing of some 1500 soldiers from Camp Lewis to guard government property and in the event of trouble, to end the reign of Bolshevism.

SUPPORT WITHDRAWN.

One by one the strong unions withdrew their support and ordered their members back to work. Instead of a "demonstration of solidarity," the strike early assumed the earmarks of failure. But union leaders are trying to bolster their cause with the assertion that the aims of the strike were gained.

"We went out to demonstrate the solidarity of labor, and having accomplished that, there is no longer any reason for continuing the general strike," is the way representatives of a number of unions expressed the situation.

Unions that have withdrawn from the general strike and had men at work today include the tonowing: Street car men, teamsters and truck drivers, barbers, newsboys and garbage wagon drivers.

Employees represented in the Seattle Amusement Federation, including moving-picture operators, musicians, stage hands and other stage crafts, late today voted to resume work at 6 o'clock tonight, resisting attempts made to have them postpone action until noon Tuesday. As a result the city's theaters were in full operation tonight.

Unions that have voted on the question of withdrawing from the general strike and have decided to remain out till the strike is officially called off, include cooks and assistants, waiters, longshoremen and garment workers.

NO EVIDENCE OF STRIKE.

The return of the street car men to their jobs made the city assume an outwardly normal aspect. With the teamsters and truck drivers back on their jobs the arteries of trade were reopened. In the downtown retail district today a visitor would not have known industry was at death grips with unionism. Newsboys cried their papers, schools opened, all stores did a lively business, and crowds were out on amusement bent.

In pursuance of the police policy to suppress all forms of I.W.W. and Bolshevist literature, a raid was made on the office of the International Weekly, at 214 Liberty Building, Third avenue and Union street, and Aaron Fisherman, circulation manager of the publication, was arrested. Fisherman is held by the police for Federal investigation, as are William H. Johnson, a former United States soldier, and Gus Pilz, a longshoreman, both of whom, the police said, were taken by officers while selling copies of the International Weekly on the street.

120,000 MADE IDLE.

Approximately 120,000 were made idle as the result of the strike. About 75,000 were union men, approximately 20,000 unorganized, about 25,500 were shipyard workers. The men lost in wages up to the time the first "locals" decided to return to work, approximately

[EXCLUSIVE WIRELESS DISPATCH.]

LONDON, Feb. 10.—After flying from Paris to Croydon yesterday, an airplane with fourteen French officers abroad made the return journey today, reaching Paris safely this afternoon.

The aeroplane made the non-stop journey of 200 miles from Paris to Croydon in 155 minutes. All fourteen officers, despite the cold weather, wore official uniforms.

When the channel was reached in the flight, a champagne luncheon was served abroad and the officers smoked, played cards and altogether had an enjoyable journey.

DRY LAW RATIFICATION DECLARED INEFFECTIVE.

PROCLAMATION SAID VOID BECAUSE SOME STATES' ACTION INCOMPLETE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PROVIDENCE (R. I.) Feb. 10. —The Providence Journal will print tomorrow a statement declaring that, after consultation with some of the best known constitutional lawyers in the country, it is believed the action of Acting Secretary Polk in proclaiming the prohibition amendment effective and adopted was illegal. The proclamation is void, the Journal contends, because when it was made thirty-six States had not ratified the amendment.

"This list of States," the statement says, "included a number of States, the constitutions of which contained provisions for referendum of the acts and resolutions of their legislative assemblies. Among these States were Ohio and California.

"Therefore Mr. Polk's proclamation, declaring that Thirty-six States had ratified as of January 16, 1919, is void, and without force. It is assumed the States listed as ratifying had completed their procedure, when in fact their procedure was no more complete than if one house of the general assembly had acted, and the decision of the other house was still undetermined."

POLK REFUSES COMMENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Acting Secretary of State Polk declined to comment tonight on the statement of the Providence Journal questioning the legality of his act in proclaiming the prohibition amendment effective further than to say the proclamation had been issued on advice of the legal department of the government.

Atty.-Gen. Gregory said that so far as he had been officially informed, no question had been raised as to the legality of the ratifications by the several State legislatures and refused to discuss the legal points in the Journal's statement.

FRANCE FOR HARDER TRUCE

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Feb. 10.—The supreme war council, in which Marshal Foch and other military commanders sit with the council of the great powers, continued today the discussion of the terms for the renewal of the German armistice, without reaching a decision.

At the same time the League of Nations commission virtually completed the final draft of that project, assuring its presentation at a plenary session the latter part of the week.

The discussion of the armistice took a wide range, including the failure to execute some of the clauses of the previous armistice, the blockade and the use of enemy merchant shipping. But the main issue turned on a series of proposals of a rather severe nature, designed to place the enemy beyond the possibility of reaffirming and renewing the conflict.

From the French viewpoint, menace of such renewal is not past, and it is urged as a matter of foresight that suitable safeguards be established. What these safeguards are has not been disclosed but it is generally understood they include limitation of the production of field and heavy guns and an exact accounting of heavy guns on hand, also some limitation of the military organization which is to be of police service.

While some of the military commanders take the view that radical measures are needed to assure the Allies, particularly France, against a possibility of renewed peril, yet other views tend to place reliance on economic measures as the best means of averting any renewal of enemy activity.

Besides the discussion of the armistice terms, M. Klotz, the French Minister of Finance, presented documents of the German General Staff showing a systematic plan to destroy French industry, not only as a military measure, but as a means to promote German industrial interests. These documents were referred to the economic conference recently established.

The discussion of the armistice terms will be continued tomorrow.

ment. France should be made to recall that her enemy wishes for fifty years to cripple her and has not given up that design. The Allies must be told that the victory bought with so much blood and sacrifice will remain a precarious one if they do not know how to complete it. Finally, Germany must be shown that she can no longer deceive us and that it is our firm intention to make peace, also, 'to the finish.'

"Premier Clemenceau has never been more lucid or stronger than in these declarations, which will have a considerable effect."

Lord Robert Cecil, British representative on the League of Nations commission, is still considering the question whether he will accept the appointment as British Ambassador to Washington, which has been offered him. It is understood that he is not inclined to take the post.

APPEAL TO VOTERS IS RECOMMENDED BY WETS

FIGHT ON DRY LAW RATIFICATION AGREED TO BY CALIFORNIA FEDERATION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—An appeal to the voters of California from the action of the State Legislature in ratifying the prohibition amendment to the Federal Constitution was recommended in the annual report of President P. N. Hanrahan, approved at the annual convention of the California Wet Federation in session here today.

The report referred to members of the Legislature as "seated, signed and delivered under dictation of the 'drys,'" and asserted enforcement of the amendment meant "confiscation of the property holdings of millions of Americans."

"The only means of maintaining influence with Legislatures or administrative officials is through organization and ample funds," Mr. Hanrahan's report continued. "That is the secret of the success of the Anti-Saloon League. It would be well if the liquor people would emulate their methods."

Action seeking to co-ordinate the work of the wet federation with that of the California Grape Protective Association in obtaining signatures to a prohibition referendum petition will be taken at the session tomorrow, Secretary Frank G. Roney said.

SYRIAN RELIEF FUND IN NORTH IS $290,000.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—The drive for funds for aid of Armenians and Syrians was to have ended tonight, but was extended throughout Northern California to permit certain districts to reach their quota, headquarters of the American Committee for Relief in the Near East announced tonight.

Collections in Northern California had reached $290,000, of which $81,000 had been subscribed in San Francisco.

Amador county reported that it had exceeded its quota today, and ten Southern California counties also wanted it to be recorded that they had gone "over the top." Ten Northern California counties were said to have exceeded their quota.

SENATE KILLS SUFFRAGE BILL.

Vote is One Short of Needed Two-thirds Majority.

Women Look to Republican Congress to Get Vote.

House Democrats Say They will Block Measure.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Women will get the vote but it will be from the Republican party in control of the next Congress. As soon as the vote today showing the defeat in the Senate of the Susan B. Anthony amendment was announced Republican leaders in both houses began planning to do for the women of America in a Republican Congress what the Democrats failed to do. It will be one of the first, if not the first, measures to be taken up and disposed of as a strictly party measure after the Republican Congress organizes for business.

Democrats in the House gave notice of reprisals and declared they would block efforts to pass the measure in the new Congress. While the southern Democrats have a large number of votes, it is not believed they can block the bill when it comes up. It is certain that many of the southern Democrats who voted for the bill at the request of the President will now oppose it and the vote in the House will be close, but it is believed many northern Democrats will line up for the measure.

One other measure that has been ordered for early action in the new Republican House and Senate is the abolition of the zone rate applying on all second-class mail matter. In spite of the showing made by publishers of newspapers and magazines against the inequality and unfairness of the zone system, House Leader Kitchin insisted this clause remain in the revenue bill. With the organization of the House in the hands of the Republicans, Kitchin will be outvoted. There will be little or no opposition to the change in the Senate and it is believed that the President will not veto the bill.

GILLETTE NEXT SPEAKER.

Shaping of the policies of the Republicans carries with it the prediction of those who have counted noses that Gillette of Massachusetts will be the next Speaker.

"Unexpected strength developed today for the Massachusetts man and when a number of Western Congressmen have given Mann a complimentary vote, it is said they will swing to Gillette and probably nominate him on the second ballot.

By a margin of one vote equal suffrage met its fourth defeat in the Senate. On the final roll call today, fifty-five Senators—one less than the required two-thirds—voted for adoption of the resolution and twenty-nine Senators cast their ballots against it. Comparatively brief debate preceded the vote, which officially killed the resolution adopted by the House on January 10, 1918, by a vote of 274 to 136. Defeat of the measure was witnessed by crowds of women in the galleries but there were no demonstrations and dramatic incidents which have marked previous Senate rejections. Up to the last moment managers of the resolution expressed confidence of securing the one vote they needed, but the opposition held firm.

Immediately after the vote was announced suffrage leaders issued statements, prepared in advance, criticising the Senate action and announcing that the fight would be renewed in the next Congress. Supporters of the resolution generally predicted that success would be attained then.

Twenty-four Democrats and thirty-one Republicans voted for the resolution today, while eighteen Democrats and eleven Republicans opposed it. Of the Senators absent and paired, eight were recorded in the affirmative and four in the negative, indicating that sentiment of the ninety-six members stood 63 to 33 in favor of the resolution.

The roll call follows:

FOR.

Democrats—Ashurst, Culberson, Gerry, Gore, Henderson, Johnson of South Dakota; Jones of New Mexico, Kendrick, Kirby, Lewis, McKellar, Myers, Nugent, Pittman, Pollock, Ransdell, Robinson, Shafroth, Sheppard, Smith of Arizona, Thomas, Thompson, Vardaman and Walsh—twenty-four.

AGAINST.

Republicans — Baird, Borah, Brandegee, Dillingham, Hale, Lodge, McLean, Moses, Penrose, Wadsworth and Weeks—eleven. Total, twenty-nine.

The following were paired: Chamberlain of Oregon, Martin of Kentucky with Reed of Missouri; Goff of West Virginia and Owen of Oklahoma with Shields of Tennessee; Hollish of New Hampshire and King of Utah with Knox of Pennsylvania; Phelan of California and Fall of New Mexico with Smith of Maryland.

Because of the two-thirds required for adoption, two advocates of the resolution were paired against one opponent.

THIRTY YEARS' EFFORT.

The Senate first voted on the Susan B. Anthony resolution in 1887, sixteen Senators being recorded for it and thirty-four against it. The next vote was in 1914, Senators diving thirty-five for and thirty-four against. On October 1, 1918, the vote was 54 to 30, or two less than the necessary majority.

The one vote gained today was that of Senator Pollock of South Carolina, who spoke in vigorous support of the measure. Senator Pollock succeeded former Senator Benet, who voted last October in opposition, and will retire himself next month. In his address today Mr. Pollock denied the contention that the amendment would affect white rule in the South and declared that women had earned the right of suffrage by their work in the war.

Thirty-five of the women arrested yesterday for burning President Wilson in effigy before the White House as a protest against the expected defeat of the suffrage amendment were tried today in Police Court. Twenty-five were sentenced to five days in jail, one to two days and the cases against the others dismissed.

The women announced tonight they would conduct a "hunger strike."

NATION-WIDE BUILDING TRADE STRIKE CALLED

ACTION TAKEN TO FORCE DOLLAR-A-DAY RAISE FOR CARPENTERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Union heads of basic building construction trades today called a general strike, which, beginning tomorrow, will affect all contracts throughout the country held by members of the Building Trades' Employers' Association, according to announcement here tonight by William J. Hutcheson, president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America.

Hutcheson said the action was taken in an attempt to enforce the carpenters' demand for a dollar a day increase in wages.

Hutcheson said the strike order affected masons, plasterers, bricklayers, hoisting engineers, elevator constructors, soft-stone cutters, tile layers, marble setters and carpenters.

The walkout of these workmen, he added, automatically will throw out of work all other workmen employed on operations of members of the employers' association.

Men affected by the order, he said, number about 250,000, or one-fourth of all union building trades' workmen in the country. Sympathetic strikes, he predicted, will bring the number of strikers to 300,000.

FOCH TOLD OF SLIGHT; HUNS SPEED APOLOGY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Feb. 10.—The Echo de Paris today prints an account of a recent incident in Berlin, which might have resulted in withdrawal of the British Prisoners' Mission had not an apology been offered by Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, Foreign Minister.

According to the account, the chief of the British mission for relief of prisoners found it necessary to have a conversation with the Foreign Minister. He proceeded to Wilhelmstrasse and sent up his card to Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau. A secretary made his appearance, and, after excusing the Foreign Minister, said: "However, you can tell me the object of your visit and I shall refer the matter to the Secretary of State."

The British officer declined this invitation and brought the interview with the junior official to an end. Immediately afterwards he informed Gen. Dupont, the French commander, of what had happened. Later he drafted a telegram to Marshal Foch requesting that the entire Allied mission be recalled.

This dispatch had hardly been handed in when Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau sent an urgent message to Gen. Dupont, saying the Foreign Minister was anxious to see Gen. Dupont in person, in order to apologize for what had occurred.

Closer Tab on Politicians Sought.

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 10.—To give the public a voice in the formulation of party platforms, and to bind candidates and office seekers more firmly to their pre-election pledges, Senator George H. Dern of Salt Lake City today introduced in the State Senate a bill requiring all political parties to formulate and publish a definite platform at least sixty days before a political convention.

AUSTRIAN REDS TO RISE.

Secret Vienna Document Disclosed Bolshevik Plot to Overthrow Government.

BY LADISLAV CZAPSKI.

[ATLANTIC CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VIENNA, Feb. 7 (via Paris, Feb. 10.) — From a secret document, whose authenticity is beyond question, as it emanates from official Allied quarters here, I learn that the Austrian Bolsheviki have decided to hand the present government an ultimatum demanding that all power be transferred to the communist leaders almost immediately. On the expiration of the stated term a signal for an armed revolt is to be given by a parade of invalid soldiers through the streets of Vienna.

While only one battalion of the people's guard is known to be definitely on the sideof the Bolshevists, there is no means of knowing at present what direction the sympathies of the rest of the orgganization will take. Up to now, however, the people's guard afforded the chief instrument in the hands of the government to maintain order. The Social Democrats are bent on suppressing communist terrorism with every possible weapon at their command.

Besides more than 8000 rifles, which were secured from Austrian soldiers during the disorderly demobilization, the Bolshevik leaders possess ten field guns and at least 400 machine guns, according to the document. It is supposed terrorists will attempt in the first place to seize the arsenals, where the government keeps remnants of its arms and ammunition.

Another effort, which is looked for among the first steps in the proposed revolt, will be to attack the barracks, disarm the inmates and distribute the arms so obtained to the rabble.

LEADERS KNOWN.

Before me as I write lies the full list of the foremost Bolshevik agitators in Vienna, among whom are two, Friedlander and Rampfor, who are known to be personal friends of Lenine. Both of these, as well as Steinhart and Kiss, the latter of whom held the rank of first lieutenant in the reserve corps of the Austrian army, are Jews. Included in the list are three quartermaster sergeants, all of whom, after deserting the Ausarian army to the Russians, became citizens of the soviet republic and later figured among Lenine's principal apostles for converting the Austro-Czecho soldiers in Russia to Bolshevism.

One of them is Aloystus Muna, who recently operated at at Prague, and who is said to have personally signed thirteen death warrants against Czech prisoners of war who tried to hinder his agitation. All his victims were executed in the cruelest fashion, except one, who escaped the clutches of the would-be assassins and returned to Prague to tell the tale, seek out Muna and kill him on sight if found.

It is to escape such a fate that Muna is thought to have shifted his activities to Vienna. Klapka and Komczak are two other Czech agitators, while among the Austrians on thelist is named Waller, who commands the Vienna guard, the members of which are said to be well armed and plentifully provided with ammunition and paid 22 crowns a day.

Government agents discovered several days ago that the Bolshevist organization was on the point of being completed with a view to an armed uprising. The first meeting to discuss the project was held February 4, when the agitators whom I have named, besides several minor leaders, made inflammatory speeches to more than 12,000 workers, soldiers and sailors. One of the speakers, who expiated on the blessings of communism in Russia, said the soviet regime has raised the moral tone of the Russian people. He said if a similar system were introduced in Austria the cost of living would go down immediately and coal would be abundant.

Another secret meeting of the Bolshevist leaders and members of the soldiers' council will be held in a day or two at which plans for the outbreak of terror are to be revised and a line of action determined.

Another roster which I have secured contains the names of fourteen agitators who recently have been busy putting the finishing touches on the Bolshevik organization in the provincial centers. In Vienna itself the iron workers in the suburbs were the first won over to the communist banner. Since then by means of systematic propaganda the germs of the movement gradually were brought nearer to the center of the city. Vast quantities of printed matter, besides three Bolshevik newspapers, which recently started, are known by the police to be in circulation.

The secret methods of distribution used in Vienna are the same as those tried out by the Bolsheviks in Russia and of the Spartacans in Germany. In close proximity, the Vienna communists have a secret printing press where all this propaganda literature is manufactured.

That such poison is allowed to spread is due to the policy of the government, which holds as the motto, "Liberty of press and speech," as it so loudly formulated at the time of the revolution. Whenever public meetings are held by the Bolsheviks policemen are sent, but the latter are instructed to interfere only in case disorder actually occurs. As a matter of fact, according to the alarming document of which I speak, one of the foremost members of the present Cabinet is thought to favor the Bolshevists.

ARIZONA I.W.W. MOB RAGES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

JEROME (Ariz.) Feb. 10.—Following the arrest of a score of men late today, said to be I.W.W. leaders, accused of obstructing street traffic, a great crowd surrounded the jail, demanding their immediate release and threatening to tear down the building. Officials consider the situation grave.

Earlier today a mass meeting was held outside the city limits, where, the police said, 250 members of the I.W.W., voted unanimously to call a strike in the copper mines and to throw out picket lines tonight as a protest against the proposed cut of 75 cents a day in miners' wages.

MINERS TO CONTINUE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

JEROME (Ariz.) Feb. 10.—Though the employees of the United Verde Smelter at Clarkdale had voted 490 to 8 to refuse a bulletined reduction of 75 cents a day in all mining branches in this district, the Central Labor Council has determined to keep at work. This was made public in a notice from the grievance committee stating that, pending arrival of Hywell Davies, Federal mediator, the members of the council have decided to continue at work under protest. They do not accept the cut of 75 cents a shift, however, their contention being that the agreement signed with the government was to continue for the duration of the war and until the final peace treaty had been signed.

Last night there was expectation that a strike would be declared in all branches of the United Verde and Extension mines and smelters, affecting about 2000 men, but this morning not 10 per cent. of the men failed to report for work.

I.W.W. disturbers here claim to have enrolled 1400 men in their organization, but this is believed untrue.

Many wobblies have been sent out of the camp in the last few weeks by the local police, who are assisted by a special force at Clarkdale, under command of Thomas B. Rynning, formerly captain of Arizona rangers. There also is a guard at the mines of a half company of the Third Infantry.

The miners heretofore have been getting $5.90 a shift from shaft collar to collar, with luncheon time allowed, making their actual working day only seven hours. Living costs are declared lower here than in other southwestern camps, while companies are relieving housing problems by erecting homes and apartments.

The main reason for failure to strike is understood to be an impression that such action would be to the profit of the mining companies, which now have no sale for the copper they are producing.

PORTUGAL IS TRIUMPHANT.

[ATLANTIC CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, Feb. 10.—In response to a message addressed to Admiral Castro, President of the Portuguese republic, the Chronicle received the following cablegram from Couceiro da Costa, Portuguese Minister of Foreign Affairs, dated Lisbon, Saturday:

"The people of Lisbon have very quickly triumphed over the criminal insurrection of royalists and the green and red banner floats over every fortress, at the state buildings and all the houses of the city. The south and center of the country rallied firmly to the clause of the republic. Only at Oporto and some other small localities in the north have the royalists, by employing force, been able to overwhelm the republican spirit of the population.

"The army of the republic is marching on the revolutionaries and compelling them to retreat upon their primitive positions. Braganza and Vizeu have been retaken and at Aveiro the enemy has been put to flight after suffering heavy losses. The war fleet was entirely loyal in making the royalists feel the effects of our rigorous blockade and only awaits the moment for showing once more its traditional heroism and its profound love of the republic.

"All powers and constitutional organizations of the State are working with perfect harmony and regularity. The life of the nation has been troubled not at all except in those places that the royalists have occupied. The hope in the future of the country is absolute. The people, House of Parliament and the legitimate government of Portugal are closely bound together in the same thought and the same action against the enemy and look with greatest confidence to the victory of the Portuguese republic, knowing well it can count on the moral support of the Allied countries and on liberal opinion everywhere throughout the civilized world."

There were no casualties.

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 10.—The Lithuanians have arrested the Bolshevik advance on the Lithuanian front, according to news received by the Lettish Bureau in Berlin. The town of Ponievsk, north of Kovno, has been taken by the Lithuanians.

WEIMAR, Sunday, Feb. 9.—At a meeting of representatives of all the political factions here yesterday, Minister of War Reinhardt discussed the problem of sending troops to the German eastern front. He predicted that conscription would be necessary. The Poles, he argued, were assuming a grave responsibility "in preventing the Germans from furthering their efforts in beating off the Bolsheviki."

NEW ARMY BILL GOES TO HOUSE.

Measure Provides Force of 537,488 Soldiers.

Carries Total Appropriation of $1,117,289,400.

Continues Increased Pay for Enlisted Men.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—A temporary military establishment of 27,579 officers and 509,909 enlisted men is provided for in the annual army appropriation bill reported to the House today by the Military Committee. The measure carries a total of $1,117,289,400.

The committee said an army of the size recommended would be necessary "during the period of demobilization."

Chairman Dent said the bill, which appropriates about $68,000,000 less than the War Department asked, will be taken up in the House as soon as the naval appropriation bill is passed, or about the middle of the week.

Legislation affecting the National Guard is among the features of the bill. A National Guard organization of 106,200 men is contemplated. Equipment and supplies would be provided without charge by the War Department. Total appropriations for the Guard aggregate $10,173,000.

FEATURES OF BILL.

Other leading features of the bill are:

Dual organization of the temporary army of 537,488 men so that part will be constituted as prescribed in the National Defense Act of 1916, providing for organization of infantry, cavalry and artillery units, and the remainder so as to permit redention of new units—aviation, Tanks Corps and others whose usefulness was demonstrated during the war.

Returning of the War Department to bureau chiefs instead of centering its organization in the General Staff.

Restoration of recruiting.

Abolishment of distinctive stripes for service overseas or at home during the war.

Continuation of increased pay for enlisted men.

Provision for promotion of officers and men, recommended for such before the signing of the armistice.

PROVISIONS ELASTIC.

The committee's report on the bill emphasizes that by establishing a temporary army of 27,579 officers and 509,909 men, no suggestion is made that such should constitute the permanent standing army.

"In other words," the report says, "under this bill we may have more than 1,000,000 men in the service at the beginning of the next fiscal year and perhaps not more than 200,000 at the end."

The committee recommended repeal of the Overman Act as applied to the military establishment. Repeal of the Act, which gives the President authority to co-ordinate bureaus and departments, is urged to safeguard the provision for a return to the bureau organization plan."

"The enlisted force for the regular army," declares the legislative rider of the bill, describing the dual form of organization, "shall be raised by voluntary enlistments for periods of the three years and for the additional forces herein authorized by voluntary enlistments for the period of one year."

FURLOUGH PROVISION.

"All existing enlistments for a longer period than three years," continued the rider, "shall be terminated as though made for three years and after expiration of one year's honorable service any enlisted man serving in the continental limits of the United States, whose company, troop, battery or detachment commander shall report him as proficient and sufficiently trained, may in the discretion of the Secretary of War, be furloughed to the regular army reserves, under such regulations as the Secretary of War may prescribe."

The rider authorizes transfer of officers serving for the present emergency into the Officers' Reserve Corps at the rank or grade held by them during their service or at a higher grade.

In the section on organization, provision is made that it shall apply only for the year beginning next July.

HOLLWEG IS WILLING TO GIVE ACCOUNTING.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Sunday, Feb. 9.—Dr. Theobald von Bethmann-Hollweg, German imperial Chancellor at the outbreak of the war, reiterates his willingness to go before an impartial tribunal, for the purpose of accounting for his stewardship of Germany's foreign policy, in a communication to the Kreuz Zeitung.

The former Chancellor's letter, which repeats utterances made by him last November, makes the condition that both parties submit complete records. He also takes it for granted that a neutral tribunal should hear his case and that he is decision on his constitutional responsibility for the political acts of the former Emperor.

DIVISIONAL PARADES ARE APT TO BE FEW

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Parades of complete divisions of the American army returning from France probably can be held only in a few cities in the immediate vicinity of debarkation ports.

The response to the recent request of many other localities for division reviews of its own troops will have to be the parading of sections rather than a regiment. This, it was learned today, is the conviction of officials at the War Department, who have been studying home-coming parade proposals.

Cities in which it probably will be possible to hold divisional reviews, these officers said, are Boston, New York and Washington. To hold such a parade in any other city, it was said, would be impracticable.

Bond Offering to Consist of Short-Term Bonds at High Return.

Plan Indicates Prospects as to Next War Borrowing from People.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The next Liberty Loan to be offered the American people in April will be for approximately $6,000,000,000 and will consist of short-term bonds bearing a comparatively high rate of interest to the investor.

These prospects were indicated in a letter Secretary of the Treasury Glass has addressed to Chairman Kitchin of the House Ways and Means Committee and the draft of a bill providing for future issues of Liberty Bonds, which accompanied the letter.

Both Mr. Kitchin, Democrat, and Senator Smoot, Republican, declare that the expenses of the government next year will be $10,000,000,000, whereas the tax revenue will be only $4,000,000,000 next year. It is also apparent that the coming loan will not end the necessity of borrowing from the people, as taxes may be increased if it is found that another loan will be necessary during the next fiscal year, and possibly others thereafter. To make the bonds attractive to investors, Mr. Glass proposes that he be clothed with authority to increase the interest rate on short-term securities, pay premiums at par, and exempt future and present bonds from taxation.

PROVISIONS OF THE BILL.

The bill submitted by the Secretary of the Treasury provides:

To increase the authorized issue of bonds from $20,000,000,000 to $25,000,000,000.

To remove the limitation as to interest rates so far as Liberty bonds maturing not more than ten years from the date of issue.

To authorize the issue of not to exceed $10,000,000,000 of interest-bearing, non-circulating certificates having maturities from one to five years.

To authorize the issue of bonds and notes payable at a premium.

To exempt War Savings Certificates from income surtaxes.

To confer authority upon the Secretary of the Treasury to determine the exemptions from taxation in regard to future issues of bonds and notes and to enlarge the exemptions of existing Liberty Bonds in the hands of subscribers for new bonds and notes.

To exempt from income surtaxes and profits all issues of Liberty Bonds and bonds of the War Finance Corporation held abroad.

To extend the period for conversion of 4 per cent. Liberty Bonds.

To create a 2½ per cent. cumulative sinking fund for the retirement of the war debt.

To continue the existing authority for the purchase of obligations of foreign governments after the termination of the war.

To extend the authority of the War Finance Corporation so as to permit it to make loans in aid of our commerce, thus supplementing the aid which may be given by the Treasury on direct loans to foreign governments and in a measure relieving the treasury of demands for such loans.

WANTS RATE LEFT OPEN.

In asking blanket authority to fix the terms of future bond issues Secretary Glass argues that inasmuch as Congress will not be in session in April it will be impossible to provide in advance the interest rate and other terms which will be regulated by the financial situation at the time. Moreover, for successful flotation of a large bond issue the terms should not be fixed, in the opinion of Mr. Glass, until the eve of the campaign.

"At the moment we are in a period of readjustment;" said the Secretary, "to the slackening of industrial and commercial activity incident to the termination of active warfare has been added the usual dullness of the winter season. The necessary and desirable contraction of our credit structure has been begun and will be greatly facilitated by the enactment of appropriate legislation to permit the liquidation of claims arising under informal army contracts.

"Steps have been taken to break the deadlock which had arisen growing out of the maintenance, nominally at least, of war prices in certain basic industries. Upon the enactment of appropriate legislation to enable the Food Administration to protect the guarantees given by the United States, I am hopeful that it will prove possible to restore the operation of the law of supply and demand with regard to foodstuffs with, as I believe, a consequent reduction in the cost of living.

PROSPERITY PREDICTED.

"A period of rising prices and of intense industrial activity, such as we have experienced during the past four years, is always a period of great apparent prosperity; a period of falling prices and of the contraction of credits is always a period of depression. The retardation of the process of readjustment by artificial means can only increase the evils inherent in the situation. Buying will not begin and activity will not set in until the community at large is satisfied that prices have reached bedrock."

BUTTE RULED BY SOLDIERS.

I.W.W. Threats of Violence Stop Miners Working, Win 100 Carmen to Strike.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BUTTE, Feb. 10.—Independent mining companies of the Butte district were notified late today of an embargo placed on the shipment of customs ore by the Anaconda Copper Mining Company to the smelters at Great Falls and Anaconda. The independent shippers assume this means the Anaconda company is cleaning up its ores on hand preparatory to closing these smelters.

BUTTE, Feb. 10.—Approximately 12,000 men are idle in Butte tonight, and the city is virtually in control of the military, due to the strike of members of the Butte Metal Miners' Union, "independent," and of the Metal Mine Workers' Industrial Union, No. 800, of the Industrial Workers of the World.

Miners who are said not to favor the strike failed to go to work this morning, due, it was said, to fear of violence. It also was asserted that many of those heretofore against the strike had decided to join the strike this morning. The men are striking against a recent reduction in wages of $1 a day, and for abolishment of the "rustling" card system in vogue here.

Besides the miners affected, close of 100 street car operators were compelled to keep their cars in the barns today. The carmen left their cars at the barns this morning when strikers' committees surrounded the barns, and, according to the military authorities, threatened violence if the cars were run.

The Street Car Men's Union late today voted to defer action on a request that they walk out in sympathy with the miners. The request to walk out was made in an unsigned circular.

Two companies of the Forty-fourth United States Infantry (regulars) under command of Maj. A. M. Jones, guarded the approaches to the mines from early this morning and strike pickets were prevented from gaining access to the mines, while gangs of pickets who had formed in a semi-military manner were dispersed.

EX-SOLDIERS ARRESTED.

Discharged soldiers who still wore the uniform and associating with those attempting to do picket duty were singled out and ordered to remove the uniform or to cease participating in the attempted picketing. A number were taken into custody temporarily and allowed to go after listening to a lecture on respect to the uniform delivered by Maj. Jones and other officers. One former soldier taken by the military was held for the Federal authorities on a charge of defaming the army.

Three former soldiers who had been arrested last night were convicted in Police Court this morning and were fined $5 each. They also will be held for the Federal Department of Justice, it was said.

For about two hours this morning, during the time the day shifts of miners generally go to work, the military was kept busy patrolling approaches to the mines. Many gatherings were broken up and the bayonet was used on a few occasions.

STRIKERS STOPPED.

Many strikers, proceeding in "companies" to do picket duty, were stopped. They gathered in Finlander Hall, where speeches, said to have been inflammatory, were delivered by foreigners. Later, singing was indulged in under the leadership of a woman of Finnish birth. This singing was said to have been in German, so the military ordered it stopped and ordered the assemblage from the hall. The woman, who gave her name as Mrs. John Kinnri, was taken into custody. Later, the meeting was allowed to resume.

Although the streets leading to the mines were cleared of pickets, but few men went to work, according to John Gillie, manager of mines for the Anaconda Copper Mining Company. Mr. Gillie said this was due partly to the lack of street-car transportation and partly to fear of violence.

"No demands for anything have been presented to the companies," Mr. Gillie said. "The men who have been at work have not struck —they simply are being prevented from going to work through intimidation. Although they realize they have the protection of the soldiers, the fear that they will be attacked at their homes or elsewhere, when this protection is not available, has kept them away. We are willing to operate some of the mines in order to take care of those men with families and deserving soldiers who have been discharged but there is no necessity of working the mines at all at this time because of the present surplus of copper in the country."

RUN BY RADICALS.

Mr. Gillie declared that the strike here was engineered by the radical element, composed principally of foreigners, and that it was to have been conducted in connection with the Seattle strike. Industrial Workers of the World literature circulated here recently would partially bear out the theory of Mr. Gillie, but strike leaders say the strike is absolutely against the recent cut in wages of $1 a day and against the "rustling" card system.

The strike is being conducted, according to the publications of the strikers, by the Soldiers', Sailors' and Workers' Council. This council, according to the secretary of the Metal Mine Workers' Union (independent,) is composed of representatives from fifteen labor unions, discharged soldiers and sailors, Industrial Workers of the World, Pearse-Connolly club (an Irish patriotic society) Socialists and others. This council announced today that it had sent the following telegram to Secretary Baker:

"Hundreds of returned soldiers, some of them back from France, are among the striking miners and workers of Butte. These strikers are peacefully picketing and the soldiers are on the picket line also. Regular troops this morning have arrested the soldiers who met the test when they called them to doff their uniforms. Is this done by order of the War Department? Please favor us with a reply."

SEATTLE STRIKE IS CALLED OFF.

Unions End Fiasco When They See They're Beaten.

Try to Bolster Cause by Claim Their Aims are Won.

Many Locals Quit Bolshevik-Controlled Bodies.

$3,735,000, if figured on the basis of $5 a day average pay.

The immediate cause of the strike, union leaders assert, was the refusal of the Emergency Fleet Corporation to permit the shipbuilders to pay more than the Macy scale after, they say, Mr. Piez agreed they might bargain with the shipyard owners for better wages. Other unions went out in sympathy with the shipyard men.

Nearly all industries were affected, including all big department stores, electric lighting plants, water supply, gas, telephone, flour mills, telegraph, all government and city utilities; virtually all retail stores, including groceries and markets.

Municipal cars began operation the morning after the strike and the service increased the second day. The traction company's cars began limited operation Saturday afternoon and 100 per cent. operation all today.

The city at no time was under martial law.

The city employed 1500 extra policemen and the government furnished 1500 soldiers to guard Federal institutions and utilities. Only a few city employees belonging to the unions quit and many of these returned the second day of the strike.

The soldiers were under command of Col. John L. Hayden, U.S.A., until Maj.-Gen. J. F. Morrison arrived Saturday.

A telephone message to the Metal Trades Council headquarters immediately after it became known the strike would be called off tomorrow, said the action of the general strike committee this afternoon would "undoubtedly have some bearing" on the strike of the shipyard workers.

VIRTUALLY ENDED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE, Feb. 10.—Delay of four hours today in deciding to set a definite time for calling off the sympathetic strike was said to be due to delayed receipt of a report from a committee sent out to obtain assurance that members of small or poorly organized unions would get back their jobs with the rest. When this was assured, the vote to end the walkout was taken.

Virtually the general strike was over this morning, as nearly every labor union of importance to industry or business was at work and the men remained at work all day. Seventeen hundred teamsters and truck drivers, nearly the entire street car company's force, milk wagon drivers, barbers, automobile drivers and garbage collectors, were back at their tasks. Schools opened. Two shipping terminals resumed work with nonunion and union men and other terminals were preparing to start business during the day, or Tuesday morning with nonunion men, unless the regular forces returned. Police guarded docks where nonunion crews worked today.

Tuesday, according to the strikers' calendar, will register the sixth day of the general strike, the first of its kind in the United States. Hundreds of police officers, however, will be kept on duty in the city's business district until all danger of trouble is past, it was announced. Large reserves also were being kept in police headquarters and motorcycle officers were patrolling the streets. Federal troops have not relaxed their guard over Federal properties.

City and police officials believed a cause largely contributing to a lack of disorders was what they termed a lukewarm attitude on the part of a majority of the union men toward the strike. Dissatisfaction among the unions as to conduct of the strike was expressed freely by union leaders today. The Newsboys' Union, which returned to work Saturday, charged the official labor organ, the Union Record, was first to violate union regulations by using nonunion boys to sell its papers.

DENOUNCE RADICALS.

At their request, Maj.-Gen. John F. Morrison, commander of the Western Department of the army, late today received in conference a committee of the Metal Trades Council. The committee outlined the reasons for which 25,000 of their number are on strike, disclaiming any connection with revolutionary, Industrial Workers of the World, and other similar elements, and declared the workers to be loyal Americans. State Representative A. E. Miller, chairman of the committee, issued this statement concerning the conference:

"We interviewed Gen. Morrison and gave him our reasons for calling the strike.

"We wanted to assure him that the revolutionary, I. W. W. and other literature against the government was contrary to the aims of this strike. The Metal Trades Council was not responsible for it, and we so told him.

"We also informed the general that we are going to maintain law and order as far as possible.

"Gen. Morrison said he was the only one who has the authority to declare martial law, and he will not do so unless it becomes necessary to preserve the peace and property."

OAKLAND SHIPYARDS STRIKE VOTE FAILS.

SAN FRANCISCO IRON TRADES COUNCIL PLANS TO EXPEL BOILERMAKERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OAKLAND, Feb. 10.—Count tonight of the vote cast by members of the Shipyard Laborers' Union on a proposal to strike unless demands for a $6 daily wage were granted showed that the measure lacked many votes of the two-thirds needed to make it effective, T. Perry, secretary of the union, announced.

The exact count, Perry said, could not be made public tonight, but there was no doubt the strike proposal was defeated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—Expected dismissal of the San Francisco Boilermakers' Union and machinists' lodge from the San Francisco Iron Trades' Council for walking out last week against orders of the council and polling a strike vote of Oakland shipyard laborers and helpers for a 10 per cent. wage increase were promised developments tonight in the strike situation here.

Six hundred Oakland machinists have expected to walk out tomorrow following refusal of the employers to pay a demanded backwage allotment today. The employers held that the allotment was to be paid on agreement that the machinists would not take Saturday afternoons off. The workers declared a half holiday last Saturday.

Boilermakers' Union officials announced a meeting of the Pacific District Council of Boilermakers in Portland today to consider a coast-wide strike of boilermakers. Portland union leaders said they had no notice that the meeting was to be held.

Dr. L. C. Marshall, member of the Federal Shipbuilding Labor Adjustment Board, announced today he would visit Seattle at the end of this week "to survey the strike situation."

Dr. Marshall expected to depart for Los Angeles tonight to investigate contests started by the boilermakers there over piecework rates.

Three thousand or more of the 7500 San Francisco machinists and Oakland boilermakers' helpers who struck last week because of differences over the latest wage award of the adjustment board remained out today.

RED MENACE IN AMERICA BARED

Extensive Organization Shown by Military Records.

Evidence of Activity to be Laid Before Senate.

Seeds of Industrial Unrest Systematically Sowed.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—That the Bolshevik propaganda in the United States is not only extensive but thoroughly organized will be developed in evidence to be laid before the subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee when it begins its inquiry into "red" activities in this country.

Ever since the signing of the armistice, the military intelligence division of the General Staff has been collecting and filing the literature of the ultra-radical, revolutionary and anarchistic organizations which are now systematically sowing the seeds of industrial and political unrest throughout the nation.

These newspapers, pamphlets, magazines and books will be turned over to the Senate subcommittee, together with a mass of collateral material tending to show that there is a well-organized and well-financed movement to transplant Bolshevism from Russia, with such modifications or variations as may be expedient, to America.

The fruits of this propaganda already have been witnessed, members of Congress believe, in the great sympathy strike in Seattle.

Senator Nelson of Minnesota last Saturday disclosed something of the nature and extent of the Bolshevik propaganda menacing the nation when he had inserted in the record the text of a publication called "Hunger," printed in Minneapolis, in which Bolshevism was lauded and glowingly hailed as the glorious new hope of the workers everywhere.

One article published in this issue of "Hunger" is headed "Raving Hunger Words" and sneeringly refers to "this higher civilization of making the world safe for democracy" and raises the question whether this shall be the "hunger and want" democracy of the master class or the "co-operative democracy," unrestricted by man-made laws, of the working class.

BALLOT SNEERED AT.

The article concludes, significantly, thus:

"There is nothing for any sane individual to defend in such a movement (making the world safe for democracy) especially in a country where the lust and the hunger for gold is trampling upon those who in their belief think it possible through some magic wand, the ballot box, to usher in a 'safe world democracy.' These are only idle dreams so long as capitalism, the master, remains on the backs of the slaves.

"And the weight of the master is always the same, be he called a professional educator, like Woodrow Wilson, or a Plute and a millionaire, like John D. Rockefeller.

"And the burden of the slave remains the same, be he called a 'trades unionist' or just a common 'migratory worker' out of a job."

This is immediately followed by the following brief but incendiary paragraph:

"Awake ye slaves, July 4, 1919. Have the courage to lay down your tools. Give this thing about to fall a last and final blow."

There is also published a series of questions and answers on the subject of Bolshevism by Arthur Rhys Williams, the Boston writer, whose recent address at a Washington meeting aroused Congress to undertake an investigation. One of the illuminating answers is made to the query, "Are Socialists the only ones who believe in the soviets?"

SYMPATHIZERS LISTED.

The answer follows:

"No; all classes of Americans—Col. W. B. Thompson of Wall street; Col. Raymond Robins, head of the American Red Cross in Russia, who knew Lenine and Trotzky; Maj. Thatcher; Bessie Beatty of the San Francisco Bulletin; Louise Bryant of the Bell syndicate; Madeline Z. Doty of Harper's; Edgar Lee Brown of the Chicago Daily News; Dr. George P. Kunz; John Reed of the Liberator, and scores of others."

MYERS SUFFERS FOR TEN YEARS

Took All Kinds of Medicines Without Relief.

Says Tanlac Is in Class by Itself.

Feels Better Than He Has in Twenty Years.

"I don't believe there is a medicine on earth that comes up to Tanlac," said W. F. Myers, who is employed in the engineering department of the city, and who lives at 3136 Malabar street, Los Angeles, a few days ago.

"My stomach has given me no end of trouble for the last ten years," he continued, "but it has been especially bad for the last two or three years. I had a good appetite all the time, but was afraid to eat anything much for my food would stay in my stomach for hours undigested and cause gas to form. I didn't get enough nourishment, so I just kept going down hill and getting weaker all the time. I got nowhere, I couldn't sleep well, and was very nervous, especially after going to bed at night. I have actually gotten out of bed in the morning feeling more worn out and tired than when I retired the night before. I believe I tried about every medicine that was supposed to relieve indigestion and stomach trouble, but got no relief from any of them.

"About two months ago I decided to try Tanlac and bought six bottles of it, and it just does me good to tell folks about the way that medicine has overcome my troubles. I am not afraid to eat now, and I am not a bit particular about what I eat, either, for just anything and everything agrees with me. I haven't had so much life and energy about me in twenty years. I sleep like a rock every night, and it is no trouble for me to do my work, for it doesn't tire me out now. I am so happy over what Tanlac has done for me that I just wish I could look up every person in this town who suffers as I did, and tell them to take Tanlac and get well. I am glad to give you this statement and hope it will be read by everybody."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by the Owl Drug Company under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.

GERMAN PLOT TO GET FOODSTUFFS EXPOSED.

CARGOES VALUED AT $1,415,000 FIGURE IN BRITISH PRIZE COURT.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Feb. 10.—What the British Attorney-General describes as "the most extensively sustained and carefully-organized effort to supply the Central Empires with foodstuffs yet exposed" came up in the prize court today. The foodstuffs are valued at $1,415,000, and were contained in shipments covering a period of eighteen months.

Fourteen ships were engaged in the attempt. Two of these vessels were of American register, four Norwegian, four Swedish, and four Danish.

The crown attorney suggested that, although the names of different persons appear as shippers, all the consignments were in fact made by K. and E. Neumond of New York and Frankfort, acting for the German government.

He charged that the cargoes shipped on the steamers Dorigo and Henrik were intended for capture by the Germans, while the cargoes on other boats were to be forwarded to Germany through Denmark.

The crown attorney stated that earlier in the war and prior to the present case the Neumonds had been held in the prize court to have acted as agents of the German government. He charged that in the present case the Neumonds had put other names than their own as shippers, on the bills of lading. This the attorneys declared amounted to the fabrication of false papers.

OSBORNE URGES A LARGER NAVY

Demands Better Protection for Pacific Coast.

Says Merchant Marine Must be Backed by Warships.

Supports Provisions in Helm Recommendations.

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Demanding adequate naval protection for the Pacific Coast, the speedy development of the Pacific Coast dry docks and marine bases, as provided in the Helm report, and insisting on a big navy, not as a competitor to Great Britain, but because we need it to extend American trade, Congressman Osborne made perhaps his most ambitious speech in the House today in support of the pending naval bill.

"The United States should be guided by a great, powerful, modern navy," he said. "We are constructing an immense merchant marine to be taken care of and made safe on the seven seas. I have noticed that those countries that carry the cargoes of the world have strong navies, whose great warships appear periodically, in the various ports of the world, on friendly visits to foreign nations.

"We have a vast coast line to guard in troublous times, on the Atlantic, the Gulf of Mexico and the Pacific. This is a vast responsibility and heretofore it has been only partly performed. For many years the people of the Pacific Coast have earnestly called for some portion of the navy to be ordered to the Pacific to guard against, or forestall, possible—though happily not probable—dangers. It is a rule of naval tactics, however, that naval power, and especially if limited, should be concentrated. I presume that is a sound rule. Therefore, our fleet is, and always has been, concentrated in the Atlantic.

"The entire naval strength of the Pacific fleet, so-called, is not equal in efficiency to a single battleship. This has been the condition for several years—always, in fact. There is absolutely no navy or naval defense worthy the name on the Pacific Ocean, which includes the vast shore line from Bering Sea, omitting the Dominion, to the Mexican border at Tia Juana; the Hawaiian Islands and the Philippines. There are no sufficient dry docks on the Pacific Coast for warships of the first class.

HELM REPORT CITED.

"A naval commission appointed by direction of Congress, known as the Helm Commission, has reported to the Secretary of the Navy a well considered plan for the naval defense of the Pacific Coast. This plan contemplates the building of a dry dock of sufficient capacity to accommodate any warship of the United States Navy, somewhere near San Francisco. It embraces lighter naval works in Puget Sound, the Columbia River, Los Angeles Harbor and San Diego. This is the first comprehensive plan of defense that has ever been formulated, so far as I have learned, and the present war has made it impossible to proceed further than its submission to the Secretary of the Navy.

"It is difficult for some to realize that way out there on the Pacific we have a continental coast line nearly as lengthy as that of the Atlantic, and including Alaska and the islands, many hundred miles longer. But it is there. And that coast is inhabited by people who have no superiors anywhere in intelligence, in refinement, and in loyalty to our country. They are entitled to consideration in the way of naval force.

"I am not anticipating trouble from any particular source. I do not care whether Great Britain has more or less vessels than we have. I am not one of those who fear that we shall ever have war with our neighbor and friend, Japan. That great and progressive country, however, faces our Pacific Coast on the opposite side of the Pacific Ocean, with a vastly greater and more powerful fleet then we sustain on the Pacific. I do not believe that it would be thought unfriendly or suspicious that we should maintain a fleet on the Pacific equal to that of our friends, the Japanese.

NOT SANGUINE ON LEAGUE.

"Regarding the organization of a League of Nations and an agreement as to disarmament. There will be a League of Nations, in the sense that the present parties to the Peace Conference form such a league, and prescribe the rules for peace. I hope that it will go far in making future wars as nearly impossible as human foresight may permit. I expressed myself many times during the war before this house to the effect that the war we were waging was 'a war against all wars.' I believe that if the war had been extended a little longer, until the German armies had been actually surrounded and had surrendered unconditionally, this purpose of preventing future wars would have been better served.

"But I am doubtful now as to the nearness of the millennium, and that human nature, greed and selfishness in nations or in individuals have all been changed by the signing of the armistice. I believe that the path of prudence will be best trod with caution and preparedness, and that the advice of one who has gone, 'to speak softly, and carry a big stick,' is still worthy of following.

"As to the manner in which the President has sought to convey his approval of this bill, whatever we may think of its propriety or consistency, it does not seem to me to have much bearing on the merits of the bill itself. I have repeatedly said on this floor that in my humble judgment the President made a great mistake, when, at the beginning of the war, he failed to constitute a coalition cabinet, and thus bring the entire country into confidential relations with the executive. With the same deference, I feel sure the President was in error when he failed to take the co-ordinate treaty-making power, the Senate, into his confidence as to what he desired to accomplish at the Peace Conference before he went to Europe, and thus assure himself that those objects had their sympathy, as in the end they must have.

PEACE IMPORTANT.

"But whether he made errors or not, or whether he should have gone to Paris or not, he is there, and along with the glory he is having a whole lot of trouble. During the war we in Congress did whatever the President asked of us, always hoping that it was the best that could be done, and believing it was our patriotic duty not to quibble about it. I do not feel that the war is altogether over. The peace settlement is fully as important in it results as the fighting. Possibly the President's urgency as to the passage of this bill may have some relation to the peace negotiations which he regards as very important, and which might be frustrated by more publicity.

"If such be the case it shows that facts and common sense in the last analysis have a great advantage over the loftiest and most eloquent abstract declarations, even those which declare for 'open covenants, openly arrived at.'

"In any event, the question under consideration here is not the conduct of the President, or the wisdom or unwisdom of his attendance at the Peace Conference. He is our representative there, and in every way that we conscientiously can we should assist and back him in his extremely difficult work. Every member must decide for himself in his own conscience what that assistance may require. For myself, I should have supported this bill to sustain and strengthen the American navy had the President said nothing about it, or given no intimation of his wishes. Now that he has done so, I shall not vote against that for that reason, but, on the contrary, I give it my hearty support and vote—and, incidentally, hope that it may be of some slight help to him in sustaining American interests in the congress of peace at Paris."

FLAW DELAYS NAVAL BILL.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Points of order by Republican Leader Mann against introductory paragraphs of the new three-year building programme section of the Naval Appropriation Bill were sustained today in the House.

This virtually eliminated the programme, Representative Garrett of Tennessee, in the chair, sustained Representative Mann's contention that legislation authorizing work for which no appropriation was made was not in order in an appropriation bill.

Chairman Padgett of the Naval Committee then began a parliamentary skirmish to restore the programme by inserting an appropriation to begin work on the proposed capital ships.

While the house was debating Mr. Padgett's amendment, Representative Pou, chairman of the Rules Committee, conferred hurriedly with Mr. Padgett and later announced a call for the Rules Committee tomorrow to consider a rule making the legislation for the new naval programme in order.

Meanwhile Representative Wheeler of Minnesota, Progressive, offered a substitute for the Padgett amendment, appropriating $210,000,000 for the construction of ten battleships. Mr. Padgett had proposed an appropriation of $2,000,000, his primary purpose being to retain the building programme in the bill.

After half an hour's debate, the House without dissent agreed to an early adjournment, with votes on the Padgett amendment and the Miller substitute postponed until tomorrow.

OCCIDENTAL HAS GOOD PROSPECTS.

From all appearances and indications, Occidental is going to make an exceptionally strong bid for championship honors in the cinder-path pastime, this season. Last year, Oxy grabbed most of the points at the conference track meet, and the Tiger dopesters figure that a similar blessing will be showered down upon them again, in the next two months.

Although most of the veterans enlisted in the service, a goodly number are returning and, in addition, a crop of stellar-bound youngsters is developing. Trainer Pete Poole, who chaperones the pin-feathered herd around the oval every night, reports the prospects as "never better." Capt. Marcus Smith, star performer in the half mile, the 440 and the high jump, is the most dependable man on the squad. Other good candidates are Walker in the high hurdles, Lindstrom in the sprints and McNary in the weight events.

With such men as these in the major division, and with the usual quota of also-rans to grab the minor points, Tiger men look for better results this season than they have enjoyed for several decades.

CELESTINS VICHY
The Vichy Company

BEGS to extend appreciation to the Medical Profession and the general public of America for their patronage and their patience with the difficulties imposed on Celestins Vichy by war conditions.

As you know, the Celestins Vichy Springs are the property of the French Republic, and the French Government, realizing the high regard of American physicians and the public for Celestins Vichy, has done everything in its power to avoid cutting off shipments to America altogether.

That shipments have been far from adequate during the past four years and the condition and packing of the goods has not always been right—we are unhappily aware.

But we can now announce, and do so gladly, that the packing and shipping of Celestins Vichy are now back to peace time standards.

Cargo space, while still limited, is being found.

Packing supplies, though also limited as yet, are being obtained in sufficient quantities to guarantee perfect delivery.

We can definitely foresee the time when the supply of Celestins Vichy in this country will be adequate for a constantly increasing demand, and each bottle carefully packed the real French way.

Your druggist or dealer tells you a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick.

Willard and Dempsey are Matched for World's Title.

ARTICLES FOR FIGHT SIGNED.

Man's Name Now Afloat to Contract.

To New Jersey to Avoid Any Complications.

Rounds for Bout Less than Forty Rounds.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Tex Rickard is promoting a world's championship bout between Jess Willard and Dempsey, obtained the signature of Dempsey today. In order there would be no legal law entanglement, Rickard and Willard, and the latter's manager, Kearns, crossed the Hudson river and signed the articles in the latter's home at Weehawken, N. J. A number of newspaper men witnessed when the papers were signed and witnesses who signed the articles were Ike Dorgan and Tex Rickard, a former featherweight champion. The trip to New Jersey was made to avoid a possible violation of the laws of the State of New York if the signatures were affixed to the papers in this city.

Willard left tonight to begin a theatrical tour at Union-town. Before he went, he said of Kearns who has any of our services. Kearns is a shrewd and any arrangements he may make will be satisfactory and will live up to the contract signed with you today and I am finishing the moment I finish with my tour, six weeks hence.

Under the agreement, Dempsey will receive $27,500 and one-third of the moving picture privileges. If the champion is to get $100,000 then one-third of the picture receipts. The articles call for a fight not to exceed forty rounds.

Rickard said tonight he was satisfied with the progress so far and expected to be in a few days to announce in various places throughout the country where the fight could be staged.

EVENT AT VERNON TONIGHT.

ROSELLI AND YOUNG FERRELL TO BATTLE. BAIRD MEETS WING.

The "standing room only" sign is expected to be hung out at the Vernon arena tonight when Earl Baird, "Tuffy" Wing, Baird Al Grunman and Jimmy Rosselli and each time the arena is large enough to hold the crowd that wanted to see the bout. Baird's bout looks to be the best that Baird has yet taken part in. He has worked into excellent shape and as Wing is tough and game prospects are bright for a battle.

Jimmy Rosselli and Young Ferrell, both big favorites at Vernon, appear in the main event. The match has been made a couple of times before but each time some-thing happened to prevent it going through.

Young Ponce and George Lam-bert are matched in a special event the last two weeks Lam-bert has had two unearned decisions handed to him and Ponce is anxious to see that he does not get any decisions in refereeing and luck will have it. Another classy match will be that between Frankie Burns and Ted Frenchie.

Young Burns and Kid Strawhecker, two heavyweights who know the fine points of the game are scheduled to tangle and Ted Titus, middleweight champion of Camp Kearns, will meet Kid Laymon in the main event.

"HIGH JINKS" AT ATHLETIC CLUB.

The Motor Car Dealers Association of Southern California, will stage their first "high jinks" at the Athletic Club on Friday, Feburary 14. An un-usual banquet and special entertainment features will surprise the members at their first dinner. The organization has proven a popular and unsolicited member, being enrolled each day as the books close on Feburary 24. Some of the weighty questions that will be settled by this association are the demand of a real Tor-pedo hitched on each car by the motor vehicle department to protect the dealer as well as the buyer, in various ways. The licensing of the so-called curb dealer. These problems will be met by this association direct with officers of the State, with the insurance companies, automobile clubs and the motor vehicle depart-ment.

ATHLETICS UNTIL MARCH.

There will be no Southern California athletic football champion-ship this year. At a meeting of the principals of the various schools it was decided to call off all competitive athletics until March 1. This action was taken by representatives of the various schools and for the reason that local prep grid-iron battles be played. The football got shelved, basketball has been called and track and other champion-ship material spring sports. There will be no interschool athletics until after the holidays.

Coach Fullerton High school will lay claim to the interscholastic gridiron title after defeating the fast San Pedro eleven in the final game of the Southern League. Inglewood and Redondo will play the second game Saturday. The win-ners will then clash with the Fullerton players.

NINTH ANNUAL TENNIS TOURNEY.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA MID-WINTER EVENT BEGINS TOMORROW.

The Ninth Annual Southern California Midwinter Tennis Tournament will commence tomorrow upon the courts of the Beverly Hills Hotel, according to Simpson M. Sinsabaugh, secretary of the Southern California Tennis Association. This tourna-ment was held last year upon the Huntington Hotel courts at Pasa-dena, and, in previous years, upon the Hotel Virginia courts at Long Beach, but it was decided to hold the tourney this year upon courts more conveniently accessible to the majority of the contestants.

That the move is a popular one is shown by the large entry already received, though entries do not close in the singles events until tonight at 6 o'clock and entries in the va-rious doubles events will not be closed until next Friday evening at 6 o'clock. The programme will con-sist of men's singles, women's sin-gles, men's doubles, women's doubles and mixed doubles, open to all comers.

Entries are being received by S. M. Sinsabaugh, 220 Haas Building, and by Miss Eleanor Tennant, Bev-erly Hills Hotel. Playing dates were chosen with a view of accommodat-ing the many leading tennis players who are in business, starting on Lin-coln's Birthday, play will not again be resumed until Saturday, Feb-ruary 15, continuing on Sunday, February 16, and being brought to a conclusion on Washington's Birth-day, Saturday, February 22, and the Sunday following. Play tomorrow will be devoted solely to the singles events and doubles will likely not commence until next Sunday. Be-cause of the fact that the schools and some business houses will not observe Lincoln's Birthday as a holi-day, it is the intention to not enter a default against any contestant un-able to play tomorrow, but as many matches as may be possible will be played tomorrow and players not appearing promptly upon next Sat-urday when scheduled will of neces-sity be defaulted.

Entries to date in men's singles are as follows: Eugene Warren, Fred Adams, Raymond Johnson, Harold Godshall, R. E. Callahan, Marshall Ketchum, Felix Chappellet, Harvey Snodgrass, Leland Curtiss, Shimo, Lieut. Preston Haglin, R. Nieto, Clarence Barker, Charles Runyon, Frank Winne, Lon God-shall, George Ota, Albert Huneke, Jack Reid, Perry Jones, Douglass Applewhite, Paul Pickett, Tobias, H. Rinehart, R. Rinehart, Sumida, John Stopp, Clif Craig, Robert Allen, Solly Baiano, Robert Myers, Edward Berry, Ralph Stillwell, Tom Fer-randini, Percy Bullock, Conrad Bry-ant, David Mannoccir, J. Tominaga, D. Rathburn, Dick Hinckley, Charles Deffenbach, Max Hunley, E. A. Con-rad, Arnold Wolff, Walter Bowers, O. A. Elmo, Earl Shook, Dick Mc-Naughton, Paul Hardeman, Dr. George Thomason, S. M. Sinsabaugh, Gerald Hodgson, Tom Hobgood, El-win Brown, Walter Moore, and Ernest Greppin.

Entries in men's doubles to date include Warren and Adams, H. Gad-shall and Ferrandini, Callahan and partner, R. Johnson and partner, Ketchum and Barker, Turvey and partner, Snodgrass and R. Reinke, Browne and Winne, L. Curtis and partner, Nieto and partner, Jones and Applewhite, Allen and partner, Hinckley and Berry, Mannoccir and partner, McNaughton and partner, Bowers and Thomason, Elmo and partner.

In addition, it is hoped that some of Southern California's former ten-nis luminaries, who have just re-turned from war service, may be persuaded to avail themselves of this first opportunity to get back in the game. Among some of these are Capt. William Horrell of Pasadena, former Border States champion; Lieut. Herbert Hahn of Pasadena, former Pacific Coast singles cham-pion, and Lieut. Gerald C. Young of Duarte.

A complete list of the entries in women's singles, women's doubles and mixed doubles, together with the drawings in the singles events, will appear in tomorrow's issue of this paper. During the course of the tournament, various entertain-ments for the tennis contestants and their immediate friends are being planned by the management of the Beverly Hills Hotel and this tourna-ment promises to be one of the most successful socially ever held in this locality. Details as to the forms these entertainments will take will be forthcoming shortly.

TUFTS-LYON TOURNEY.

Great interest is being manifested in the Tufts-Lyon tennis tourney. Play has already progressed as far as the third round in the doubles, while a number of matches have been completed in the singles.

The best match played thus far was that of Stopp and Craig vs. Tom Ferrandini and Harold Godshall. The former team won after having dropped the second set, 5-7. The smashing left-hand drives of God-shall were particularly spectacular, while the team work of the win-ners was interesting to watch.

Play in the tourney will be con-tinued next Saturday and the matches will probably be staged on the Y.M.C.A. courts. Considerable en-thusiasm is being manifested in the tourney by the players because of the prizes that will be awarded. Frank Smith and Frank Winne are in charge.

Following are the results:

Doubles—Hinkley and Berry de-feated Wolf and Reed, 6-4, 6-2.

Ferrandini and Godshall defeated Allen and Dunn, 6-2, 8-6.

Chapellett and Huneke defeated Hobgood and Mannocar, 6-2, 5-7, 6-4.

Nieto and Tobias defeated Rager and Rathbun by default.

L. Godshall and Defenbaugh de-feated Hunley and Turner, 6-1, 6-2.

Ferrandini and Godshall beat To-minago and Conrad, 6-1, 6-2.

Nieto and Tobias defeated Chapel-lett and Huneke, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3.

Stopp and Craig defeated Ferran-dini and H. Godshall, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4.

Singles—Hinkley defeated Tomi-nago, 6-1, 6-4.

Nieto defeated Mannocar, 7-5, 6-4.

Stopp defeated Allen, 6-0, 4-6, 6-4.

Dunn defeated Huneke, 10-8, 1-6, 6-1.

No Great Act of Heroism Required.

If some great act of heroism was necessary to protect a child from croup, no mother would hesitate to protect her offspring, but when it is only necessary to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Rem-edy and give it as soon as the first indication of croup appears, there are many who neglect it. Chamber-lain's Cough Remedy is within the reach of all and is prompt and ef-fectual.—[Advertisement.

NO TRANSFER OF VERNON BALL CLUB.

MATTER DROPPED AT HOLLYWOOD MEETING—TIGERS NOT IN MARKET.

Vernon still has an iron grip on its baseball franchise. Reports had it yesterday afternoon that there was a possibility of the franchise being transferred to Hollywood. Some color was given to this when a number of Hollywood merchants met at the Board of Trade in that town last night for the purpose of discussing the feasibility of having a team in the Pacific Coast League. Tom Kennedy, the moving-picture man, was before the board, claiming he represented Tom Darmody, own-er of the Vernon team.

After hearing what Kennedy had to say, H. T. Wright, secretary of the Hollywood Board of Trade, was told that a suitable site for a ball grounds could be had at Melrose and Western avenues. As soon as this information was placed before the board a protest from the citi-zens living in that vicinity was laid before the meeting. As no other site was suggested, and as the board did not wish to antagonize in any way the wishes of Hollywood citizens, the entire matter was dropped, and no action whatever taken. Kennedy had no logical reasons or views to pre-sent to the board in regard to costs and the chances of getting the Ver-non franchise, and therefore the whole matter fell by the wayside.

Tom Darmody, president of the Vernon baseball club, when asked about the reported transfer of the Tigers' franchise, declared as fol-lows: "Well, this is news to me. I was asked by Tom Kennedy to go with him to Hollywood for the pur-pose of addressing a meeting of the business men of that town at the Board of Trade, but I declined to go for the simple reason that I could tell them nothing, and that I had no franchise to sell. Of course, like any other man in busi-ness, if I could sell out at an ad-vantage I would do so, but I have not the power to dispose of the Ver-non franchise.

"A great many things would have to be gone through before a fran-chise could be transferred. The stockholders of the club would have to pass on the affair. Even then if they were willing to sell the direc-tors of the Pacific Coast League would have to call a meeting and vote on the matter. Of course, this voting could be done by mail by consent of Allan T. Baum, president of the league. If it were agreeable to all parties concerned then the franchise could be transferred.

"Even under these conditions, however, I hardly see how the af-fair could be arranged at this late date, as the players will begin prac-tice in a few weeks, and the season starts April 8. This desire on the part of Hollywood citizens pleases me very much, as it shows that base-ball is coming back into its own. I hope other municipalities take so deep an interest in baseball.

"As I said before, I have not even hinted that I had a franchise to sell. As for the city of Vernon—I have no complaint to make what-ever. My treatment there has been very satisfactory at all times, and I am perfectly satisfied with the way matters stand at present. I look for-ward to a big year, and feel that the Vernon fans will support my club better than ever this season. I have great faith in Bill Essick, and think he is surrounding himself with a bunch of players that would do credit to any big city."

AMERICA AT OLYMPIC GAMES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—"America stands ready to send a representative team to the next Olympic games, regardless of the time or place which may be designated." This was the answer of prominent Amateur Athletic Union officials to the query of the Swedish Athletic Association, made through United States Minister Morris at Stockholm recently.

Sweden is not the only nation which desired to hold the games and it is probable a conference of the International Olympic Games Com-mittee will be necessary in the fu-ture, to pass upon this phase of the situation, especially if the meet is to be staged in 1920, as appears probable.

BOXING IN CITY COUNCIL ROOMS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Boxing con-tests will be held in a ring in the City Council chambers next Thurs-day afternoon, it was announced to-night, in the interest of a bill legal-izing boxing pending before the Legislature. Aldermen and others interested in the measure will be the spectators. The boxers will be recruited from men at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station and from professionals.

Keeping Your Teeth

THERE is a reasonable way—cleanliness first; and, if you ever think they need drugs, go to your dentist or doctor.

Brushing the teeth with plain water will clear the mouth of acidity as well as a dentifrice will. No need of drugs. That's positive.

Dr. Lyon's is recommended by dentists and used by millions of refined people because it is as safe as water, cleans the teeth more thoroughly and quickly, removes the mucus plaque (film) and polishes at the same time. It removes also the possibility of the misapplication of drugs. It contains none.

January's Startling Revelation!

How a Prominent Advertiser Explains It—

"It makes a whacking, big difference to me," said he, "whether a newspaper is Fletcherized—read column by column—or whether swallowed whole—read by glancing at the first page headlines. So I spend my money in the morning newspaper."

Why didn't he put an "s" on the end of "morning newspaper?"

Because, for all practical purposes, Los Angeles has but one morning newspaper.

THE TIMES' gigantic circulation does it all.

Said another advertiser:

"One newspaper in the home is worth ten thousand in down town scrap baskets. The man who investigates the nightly collection of afternoon newspapers gathered up by janitors in the office buildings, will feel like insisting that this enormous proportion of street-sales be deducted from the circulation sold to advertisers."

INDICTMENT OF LEAGUE CHIEFS IS THREATENED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Unless Charles D. Orth, chairman of the Congressional Committee of the National Security League, and E. L. Harvey, publicity director of the same organization, can satisfactorily explain certain alleged incorrect statements made by them since the investigation of the league started, the grand jury of the District of Columbia will be requested to indict them.

This was the assertion today of Representative Johnson, chairman of the special House committee investigating the league following a charge by Representative Frear of Wisconsin that Harvey had issued an article on the league investigation headed "High light so far is dwindling of $1,200,000 fund charged by Congressman Frear, to $6000."

"I did not charge the league with spending $1,200,000," Mr. Frear said. "And this article, which was issued since the investigation started, was issued with intent to deceive. It is absolutely false and is contradicted by evidence here."

"We will have Mr. Harvey recalled before the committee," Mr. Johnson said, "and if he is guilty of this article will ask the grand jury here to indict him. If Mr. Orth is jointly guilty we will ask his indictment."

In his testimony, Mr. Frear said Mr. Orth was a "conceited ignoramus affected by English interests and with an office in England; he has an unsavory record in all his dealings.

"Harvey, who had no children, was only 33 years old during the war and should have enlisted in the service instead of condemning the loyalty of men like Representative Johnson of North Dakota, who enlisted despite three children, and served until injured. Harvey has sent out lying statements since the investigation started and should be held up for contempt of the House.

"Reputable men in the Security League, and there were many, were misled by leaders, who sought to carry out their own selfish interests. Unless these leaders are brought before the House to answer for their acts, this investigation will not have accomplished anything."

HENEY BRANDED LIAR BY MAYER.

No Employment Offered by Armour's Attorney.

Statement Regarding Walsh Also Labeled False.

Heated Words Exchanged at Committee Hearing.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Francis J. Heney, who conducted the Federal Trade Commission's meat-packing investigation, today gave the Senate Agriculture Committee details of offers of employment he said were made to him by Levy Mayer, counsel for Armour & Co., before and during the present hearing.

Mayer, who spent the day on the witness stand, emphatically denied he had made the offers of any of the statements attributed to him by Heney. At the close of the day Mayer stood up with a book in his hand and, for the purpose of assisting the committee to determine to whom it should give credence, he said, started to make a statement which he said "dealt with Heney and the 'fixing' of a jury."

Heney immediately was on his feet and announced that if any such statement was introduced he would bring in the Attorney-General to prove any such charge against him was false. At this point members of the committee interrupted to say they regretted that the two lawyers had become involved in a discussion as much of the time of the committee, which should have been given to the hearing had been consumed.

Earlier today Mayer entered his denial that he had offered business to Heney, before the latter arrived at the hearing. He also read a telegram from Frank P. Walsh, who, Heney said Mayer told him, had been made a similar offer, stating he had heard nothing of it.

Later, after Mayer had been giving the committee his views regarding proposed legislation regulating the meat industry, Heney began questioning him about their first meeting in Chicago last year and about a meeting between Mayer, W. W. Chapin of the Oakland (Cal.) Enquirer, and a Mr. Slesinger of San Francisco.

"I'll tell you what I said to them," said Mayer. "Chapin and Slesinger came to my office and the latter asked if I knew any San Francisco lawyers. I said I knew of you, Mr. Heney, and Mr. Slesinger replied that he was a good friend of yours. I replied that that being the case I could speak freely with him, and I told him your methods were unprofessional and dishonest."

HEATED WORDS EXCHANGED.

This statement resulted in a heated exchange, but finally Mayer, in response to Heney's questioning, told of discussing with Heney a visit the latter made to New York.

"You discussed New York lawyers," said Mayer, "and said they did not know how to try cases and that you thought you would go to New York and open an office."

"Did you then offer to send me business?" asked Heney.

"Neither then or any other time," replied Mayer.

Responding to further questioning Mayer said he remembered meeting Heney in a Washington hotel last Saturday. Heney then asked:

"Didn't you leave Mr. Armour, grab me by the coat lapel and say, 'You have been very nice to us today. We appreciate it. We won't forget it. You know what I mean?'"

"No," said Mayer emphatically.

"Didn't you ask me into your room and, after I refused, say you would come to my room to smoke a cigar?"

"No," replied Mayer.

Heney then made his detailed statement to the committee. He said he was invited to the office of Carl Mayer in Chicago last year for a conference and after he had been there some time Levy Mayer entered th room, grabbed him by the coat lapel and said he was "so glad" to meet him. Heney then quoted Mayer as saying:

MAYER'S ALLEGED WORDS.

"Heney, you ought to go to New York and open an office. I told Frank Walsh if he would go to New York my people would give him plenty of business. You ought to do that, too. You ought to work for the kind of people I work for."

"I didn't pay much attention to him," Heney went on, "because I thought he was a glad-hander and wanted to make me feel friendly to the packing interests. Then when I came in this room the other day he rushed up to me and shook my hand asking if I was going to examine witnesses here. I told him I did not know. He changed the subject and later leaned over to me at the table and recalled the conversation in Chicago."

Heney said that then Mayer again mentioned that if he would open an office in New York "plenty of business" would be forthcoming. Heney said it was that night that Mayer met him in the hotel and he added that he told several people of the meeting and had made up his mind to make a statement embodying his assertions about Mayer at the conclusion of the hearing as illustrative of the methods he said the packers had pursued.

Continuing Heney said:

"They've used all sorts of methods with our young men who have told me of executives of the company coming to them when they were working in the Chicago plants and saying: 'You shouldn't be working for the government; you ought to have a better job.'"

In opposing the legislation before the committee for control of the meat industry, Mayer said the big packing companies would not oppose regulation by a commission to be appointed by the President and to be composed of representatives of the producers, packers and consumers.

PHELAN JEOPARDIZES OIL BILL BY ABSENCE.

ASSOCIATES WIRE CALIFORNIA SENATOR TO RETURN AND SIGN MEASURE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Senator Phelan stands between the oil developers of California and relief from Congress. His associates here wired him to return immediately and sign the conference report on the oil leasing bill, which has been held up a week or ten days already because of the objection of Senator Smoot.

Senator Shafroth has been unable to get Senator Smoot to permit a vote on a concurrent resolution to permit Senator Pittman to sign Senator Phelan's name. Senator Smoot apparently will continue to talk the bill down each day, making it take its place at the foot of the calendar. This makes it impossible to consider the legislation without Senator Phelan's signature.

Delay of days now may kill the legislation entirely for this season, and as the compromise is regarded as the best that can be secured all relief may fall if this bill does not become a law. If the oil developers in California have to wait for another two years many of them will have become bankrupt.

HOOVER PRAISED FOR SETTING HOG PRICES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Resolutions commending the United States Food Administration for establishing a minimum price for hogs, and for its "admirable success in protecting in general the interests of the live-stock producers throughout the country during the period of the war," were adopted today at the annual meeting of the Chicago Live Stock Exchange.

The resolutions stated that the action of the government in fixing a minimum price for hogs saved live-stock producers $200,000,000.

"UNLAWFUL PRACTICES" BY DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE AGENTS INTIMATED.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The Ford election contest took a new turn today when Senator Townsend of Michigan introduced a resolution calling on the Department of Justice to inform the Senate regarding the practices of some of its alleged agents engaged in collecting evidence in the recent Michigan Senatorial election.

In the preamble of the resolution it was stated that men "representing themselves to be agents of the Department of Justice," are "accused of indulging in unlawful and unwarranted practices."

Senator Ashurst of Arizona, Democrat, blocked immediate action on the resolution, although it is the custom of the Senate to adopt without debate measures merely calling for information. The resolution will be brought up again in a day or two.

The text of the resolutions follow:

"Whereas it is known that a large number, more than twenty-five men, have been in the State of Michigan for a great portion of the time since August, 1918, representing themselves to be agents of the United States Department of Justice, and many are there now; and

"Whereas, said men are accused of indulging in unlawful and unwarranted practices; therefore, be it

"Resolved that the Attorney-General be and he is hereby directed to inform the Senate whether he has sent any special agents into Michigan, and if he has, how many have been sent, together with their names; and how many are there now; the purpose for which they were sent and are now retained there, and what instructions if any, were given these men by him."

HELD TO ANSWER.

Percy Brubaker was held to answer yesterday by Justice Summerfield for grand larceny and "joy-riding" from Los Angeles to Phoenix and back to San Bernardino. Testimony showed that Brubaker took an automobile belonging to the Hellman Commerical Trust & Savings Bank. He was arrested at San Bernardino and evidence brought out by Deputy District Attorney McCartney showed that the car was a practical wreck after the trip.

LITHUANIANS CHARY OF BOLSHEVIKI OVERTURES

WARSAW, Sunday, Feb. 9.—Bolshevik leaders in Lithuania are attempting to make their men behave circumspectly, but, according to reports reaching here, they are not having an easy task.

A band of 500 Bolsheviki operating in Novgorod reported to the leaders that the inhabitants were hostile and that difficulties were in sight. The leaders of the band in Novgorod have posted notices that there will be no pillaging if the Bolsheviki are given food, although when they first arrived they stole money and other valuables from homes.

In the art of stealing, the Bolsheviki are often outdone by the retiring German troops. Before they left Novgorod, they pretended that ten horses had been stolen by the townspeople and that the town would be burned unless 40,000 rubles was paid. Officers dressed as Black Hussars gave the townspeople one hour to make the payment.

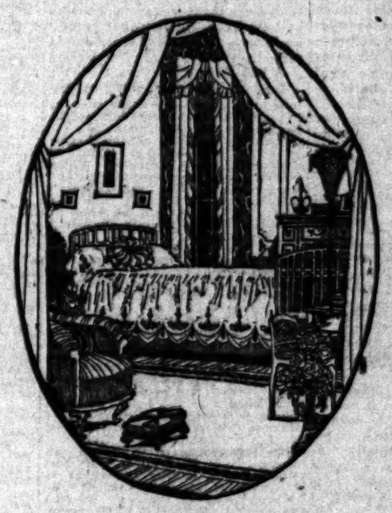
A. L. Paulson, M. D., who has practiced medicine in New York City for many years, gave out the following recipe for a home-made gray hair remedy: "Gray, streaked or faded hair can be immediately turned black, brown or light brown, whichever shade you desire, by the following simple remedy that you can make at home:

"Merely get a box of Orlex powder at any drug store. It costs very little and no extras to buy. Dissolve it in 4 ozs. of distilled or rain water and comb it through the hair. Directions for mixing and use and a gold bond guarantee come in each box.

"It is safe, it does not rub off, is not sticky or greasy, and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger."

Are You a "Light Sleeper"



IF you don't sleep soundly, there's something wrong somewhere. Diet not right perhaps—or maybe it's your bed.

Nobody is a "light sleeper" naturally. Give your body and nerves a chance to relax, and you'll sink into a sound, deep sleep.

You'll get rid of all your fatigue poisons and wake up feeling and looking fresh and fit.

Only once in a while can you get this kind of sleep—when you thoroughly relax.

But do you ever relax?

If your bed has a loose joint, if it rattles or squeaks, if your spring creaks every time you turn—you can't get deep, sound sleep. You may get up even more tired than when you went to bed.

o o o

FOLKS who have been light sleepers and heavy dreamers all their lives sleep sound on a Simmons Metal Bed and Slumber King Spring.

The Simmons Metal Bed is noiseless. It locks firm at the corners. The corner locks are made of pressed steel—have much longer bearing surfaces than the average—fit true and snug—not a creak, rattle, or feeling of unsteadiness.

It is perfectly rigid—feels and moves like one solid piece.

The Simmons Pressed Steel Corner Locks are protected by basic patents. They are the most fundamental inventions of modern bed manufacturing—exclusive with Simmons, not to be duplicated or imitated.

And these patented corner locks have made possible the Three-piece Bed—the new Simmons idea—the spring forming a single unit with the side rails.

o o o

THE Slumber King Spring really does what you have always wanted a spring to do.

It is a new and advanced idea. It is a system of elastic steel strips with spirals of high test spring wire—so combined that the spring action is equal in all directions.

The Slumber King Spring yields to the weight of the body, but supports it. It fits square on the bed. It does not sag, hump—or lose its resiliency. It is always a firm, elastic foundation for the mattress. It invites sound, health-giving sleep.

The Slumber King Spring is finished in oxidized silver. It is rustproof. It has no loose ends or rough corners—cannot wear or tear the ticking.

o o o

IF you want to sleep, you want the Simmons Metal Bed and Slumber King Spring.

Your leading merchant has them—in all sizes and styles. In brass, and enameled in colors and in natural wood effects.

They cost no more than ordinary beds.

o o o

MAYBE you're one of those folks that never sleep sound unless you have a bed to yourself. You'll be glad to know that Simmons Company are making a specialty of Twin Beds.

The best people everywhere are welcoming separate beds. There's no disturbance of one sleeper by tossing or tumbling about of the other. Infections, such as coughs, cold or sore throat are not communicated. There's no loss of vitality—as when children sleep with old people or the weak with the robust.

If you care to write us, we'll tell you where to get Simmons Beds in this community.

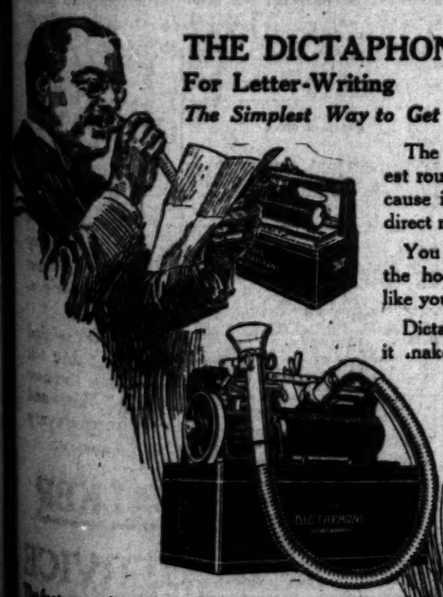
THE DICTAPHONE—
For Letter-Writing
The Simplest Way to Get More Letters



The Dictaphone is the "shortest route to the mail-chute," because it's the simplest and most direct method of dictation.

You simply lift the receiver off the hook, and talk your letters like you talk into the telephone.

Dictate as fast as you want to, it makes no difference to your operator. She can get it all.

The foot control enables her to stop the typewriting-machine and type the sentence or paragraph she has just listened to. By repeating that simple operation she keeps pace with her natural typewriting speed, yet produces 50% to 100% more letters per day. You see, The Dictaphone is scientifically right for her as well as for you.

15-Minute Demonstration

At your request, The Dictaphone Man calls at your office. In fifteen minutes, without interrupting your regular work, he proves to you and your secretary or stenographer that The Dictaphone will speed up your mail. Phone or write for this demonstration.

ELECTRIC MEN LEAD IN WAGES.

War Labor Board Examiners End Local Hearing.

Road Shows Many Increases Have been Granted.

President Shoup Testifies Regarding Finances.

Wage increases to Pacific Electric trainmen since December, 1915, have been from 48 to 52 per cent., according to figures submitted yesterday at the concluding session here of the War Labor Board's inquiry into the employees' complaint regarding the present pay scale.

With the conclusion of the hearing, Examiners Raymond Swing and W. R. Kelly will submit the testimony to Washington for a decision. The hearing has been under way for over a month. It concerned the demand of the Pacific Electric trainmen for increases that would put their wages on a parity with those of the employees of the government-operated steam lines.

Interurban trainmen have received a 48 per cent. increase in wages since December, 1915, according to the figures submitted by the Pacific Electric, and the local and freight men have received increases of 50 and 52 per cent., respectively.

To support the Pacific Electric's claim that its trainmen are receiving a living wage, W. L. Newton, a consulting engineer, submitted a wage chart, showing the pay received in twelve Southern California cities by Pacific Electric men, compared with men in other occupations. It showed that grocery clerks have received a 37 per cent. increase in wages since December, 1915; milk-wagon drivers, 34 per cent.; icemen, 33 per cent.; firemen, 17 per cent., and policemen, 16 per cent.

On the score of monthly wages, the chart shows that Pacific Electric trainmen receive from $90 to $300 a month, and that the maximum in the other occupations is $140.

President Paul Shoup of the road was the last witness called. He testified regarding the financial condition of the road.

HELD FOR OBSERVATION

Woman Arrested for Trying to Obtain Drug is at County Hospital.

Mrs. Anne Bard, wife of Capt. Thomas G. Bard, now in France, and daughter-in-law of the late United States Senator Thomas R. Bard, who was arrested late Sunday night with her maid, Helen Craig, and charged by the police with having attempted to secure a quantity of heroin, was yesterday confined in the psychopathic ward of the County Hospital. She is being held for observation.

The arrest came as the result of an alleged attempt by the maid to secure 100 tablets of heroin, using a prescription signed by a San Fernando physician. Upon investigation, the police stated that the signature was forged and further search brought out the fact that Mrs. Bard has been arrested before on drug charges.

Much sympathy is expressed for Mrs. Bard, her friends stating that she is not herself responsible for her predicament.

CUT NEW LEGAL GROUND

Sustaining of Robertson Demurrer will Mean Passport Change.

A demurrer to the indictment charging D. F. Robertson, a steamship agent, with perjury in connection with an affidavit made in behalf of one of his clients in the issuance of a passport, was argued before United States District Judge Trippet, yesterday, and the matter taken under advisement. The court stated he was inclined to think that the demurrer was good. If it is so held, Mr. Robertson will escape criminal prosecution.

Assistant U. S. Attorney E. I. Varmilyea, in behalf of Mr. Robertson, raised some interesting points. He contended that the court could not take judicial notice of departmental regulations, as set out in the proclamation of President Wilson, January 24, 1917, unless they are pleaded in the indictment, and that the regulations themselves do not require that a supporting affidavit filed with an application for a passport shall include a sworn statement that the witness has known the applicant for at least two years.

Discussing the case, Judge Trippet suggested that President Wilson had not written the regulations, or they would have been better phrased.

If the demurrer is held good it will require a recasting of the methods in the passport division of the United States clerk's office, for to present they require every witness to make oath as to how long he or she has known the applicant.

TO TEST SANITY OF CONFESSED BURGLAR.

Bernard Tennis, who admitted in court that he committed thirty-two burglaries in the Highland Park district, was ordered sent to the psychopathic ward of the County Hospital by Superior Judge Craig, yesterday. He will be placed under observation as to his sanity.

The man declared that he sold all of his loot to W. C. Schoelkopf, a jeweler of East Seventh street. The jeweler is now awaiting trial in the Superior Court on a charge of receiving stolen property.

PLAN CAMPAIGN TO EVANGELIZE WORLD.

INTER-CHURCH WORLD MOVEMENT WILL BE LAUNCHED HERE NEXT SUNDAY.

To arouse the spiritual consciousness of the world is the object of the inter-church world movement which will be launched locally with a mass meeting next Sunday at Trinity Auditorium. Preliminary arrangements were made yesterday at a conference between Raymond Brown of New York, international representative of the committee, and a committee of Los Angeles clergymen and laymen.

Sunday's meeting will be followed by an all-day conference on February 24. Meetings, addressed by Fred B. Smith, chairman of the Committee on Inter-church Federation of the Federal Council of Churches; Dr. J. Campbell White, president of Worcester College, and former secretary of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, and Dr. Worth M. Tippy, will be held on February 22 in this city, Pasadena and Long Beach.

The inter-church world movement was inaugurated by the home and foreign mission boards of twenty-five denominations, co-operating with the Federal Council of Churches, the war councils of the Y.M.C.A., the Y.W.C.A., and the Laymen's Missionary Movement. The primary object is to conduct a powerful educational movement in every community and through this federated plan to create world-wide evangelism.

In charge of the local arrangements is a committee composed of Charles C. Selecman, Daniel F. Fox, W. E. Crabtree, George P. Taubman, Miss Fay Smith, H. O. Hill, F. M. Rogers, Will H. Wallace, Herbert Booth Smith, E. Guy Talbott, W. S. Dysinger, H. M. Patterson, C. W. Kinnear, A. J. Wallace, Egerton Shore, S. M. Cooper, C. C. Chapman, John Willis Baer, W. E. McVay, Mrs. W. A. Moses, George W. Marston of San Diego, Dr. C. E. Tebbits of Whittier, F. E. Walker of Long Beach, Commissioner Estill of the Salvation Army and Leonard Merrill.

SILVER MINE SALTED, CHARGE MADE IN SUIT.

TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS' DAMAGES DEMANDED BY INVESTER IN SHARES.

The story of an alleged salted mine promises to be laid bare when the suit of W. A. Street for $10,000 damages against Margaret Wade and Don H. Pelt, filed through Attorney W. R. Law yesterday, comes to trial. The property is located in the Hilltop mining district in Lander county, Nevada. Mr. Street says that in November, 1917, it was represented to him that the mine contained large quantities of silver and that the property was worth $200,000.

A corporation was formed and stock to the value of $52,000 issued, Mr. Street buying $2200 worth. The mine contains two tunnels, the upper bore, the complaint alleges, containing a thin stringer of silver of rich ore, the lower tunnel containing low-grade ore. It is alleged that ore from the upper tunnel was taken to the lower tunnel and placed in a natural shape.

Mr. Street invested after an inspection of the property, he says. Subsequently, he declares, he learned that the lower tunnel had been salted. The charges are denied by the defendants.

SECOND I.W.W. FOUND GUILTY.

Trouble Fomenter is Convicted at Covina.

Fruit Pickers Join Strikers in Two Citrus Centers.

Federal Intervention Urged by Orange Growers.

William Goldberg, the second of seven Charter Oak I.W.W. agitators who was arrested while trying to foment a strike among the orange pickers, was found guilty yesterday by a jury of disturbing the peace in trying to stop Mexican fruit pickers from working. The trial lasted three days, before Justice of the Peace Thomas B. Reed, at Covina. The jury was out yesterday afternoon. Goldberg will be sentenced tomorrow, J. H. Ryckman, the local lawyer who is defending the I.W.W., will appeal the case to the Superior Court.

A number of Mexicans who have been refusing to go to work returned to the orchards at Upland, Glendora and vicinity yesterday, and this morning, before rain began, about 100 Mexicans at Covina, Azusa, Glendora and vicinity, offered to return to work late yesterday.

At Upland three Mexican agitators were arrested and arraigned before Justice of the Peace Crane on charges of disturbing the peace.

JAPANESE DEMANDS.

Japanese fruit pickers held a meeting at Charter Oak yesterday afternoon and presented demands to the growers. A number of Japanese at San Dimas and La Verne also failed to report for work yesterday. Heretofore the Japanese have remained away from the I.W.W., and the belief is that the dissatisfaction is only temporary. The Japanese demand $4 a day for eight hours of work, or, where they are paid by the hour, 40 cents an hour instead of the present rate of 30 cents and 1 cent a box bonus. The reason they cannot pay the I. W. W. demands, which is an arbitrary one set by agitators sent out from Chicago and Seattle, who are said to be from the I.W.W. headquarters in the Germain Building, Los Angeles.

FEDERAL REMEDY.

The association of orange growers, which has been harassed and persecuted by the Bolshevik representatives in the past two weeks, called at the office of the United States District Attorney yesterday, with a view to ascertaining whether there is any way in which the troublemakers could be prosecuted under federal laws.

MILITARY POST TO OPEN TODAY.

Detachment of Army Police to be Quartered Here from Camp Kearny.

A detachment of military police under a major will arrive in Los Angeles from Camp Kearny today and take up headquarters in the Boyle Heights Police Station on East First street, Chief of Police Butler announced yesterday.

The men will be quartered on the top floor of the station, where they will have their bunks, their quartermaster department, and their arrangements for mess. Their working headquarters will be at the war squad office at Central Station, and Sergt. Slaughter and his men spent several hours yesterday moving out the surplus furniture in the office and "policing" the room so that everything will be spick and span for the new officers.

Permission for the establishment of the post here came from the War Department last week, and Sunday the final authority was received in a telegram from Maj.-Gen. Guy Carleton, commanding at Camp Kearny, with whom Chief Butler held a conference last week.

DRESS TOO SHORT.

Woman Refuses to Accept It and the Court Upholds Her.

"I am a modest woman; I am a married woman; I dress to suit my husband; I don't care about style. The dress was too short; I did not like it."

Attractive Mrs. Jeanne McConnell, who made this statement in Judge Avery's court yesterday, picked up a handsome suit, and, spreading it on the bench, said to the judge:

"Would you pay $100 for a suit like that?"

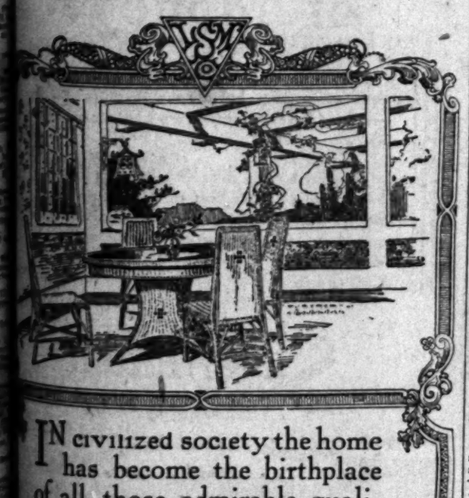
His Honor diplomatically refrained from comment.

The dress was made by J. Korn, a tailor, and refused by Mrs. McConnell, although she admitted she had worn it four times.

The suit to recover its cost was filed by the Biltwell Company against L. A. McConnell, on the assigned claim of Mr. Korn.

"Mr. Korn told me the dress was the style. I told him I did not dress extreme and that it did not suit my style. What do I care for style?" said Mrs. McConnell.

Judge Avery dismissed the case.



IN civilized society the home has become the birthplace of all those admirable qualities that make for super-citizenship.

In it the finest human emotions find expression, character is made, ideals are born, and the instinct for that which is artistic and beautiful is easily developed.

In order to satisfy the demands of this civilization the merchant selling furniture must carry a stock that has been intelligently conceived and conscientiously completed. The demand for such furniture may be fully satisfied from the products of this store.

FIRE SCHOOL TO GET VACATION.

Two Fourteen-Year-Old Boys Under Arrest.

Admit Two Incendiary Acts, Police Declare.

Thirtieth-Street Structure has Narrow Escape.

That they made two attempts to burn down the Thirtieth-street school so that they would get a vacation, is the confession said to have been made to the police last night by Ralph Norwood of 2506 Maple avenue and Ira Cook of 322 East Twenty-fourth street, 14-year-old boys. The arrests and confessions were made shortly after the second attempt in ten days to set the school building on fire was frustrated by the timely discovery of the flames as they were beginning to make headway up the front part of the building.

Dan Fort of 201 West Thirtieth street noticed the fire burning on the front porch of the schoolhouse and turned in the alarm. Officers Mathes and Knowels of the University Station arrived a few minutes later, and found that a pile of chips and wood was saturated with coal oil and had been set on fire where it would ignite the front wall of the building. In making their investigation, the officers found young Cook hiding behind a near-by telephone pole, an interested spectator.

When questioned, the boy confessed he set the fire, the officers say, and implicated the Norwood boy as the instigator of the plot to get rid of the school and earn a much-needed vacation. Placing the youthful prisoner in the automobile with them, the officers drove to the home of the other boy, and arrived there just in time to see Norwood, very much out of breath, run into the house. According to his story, he had run all the way from the school when he saw the fire start. He later confessed, the officers say.

In addition to admitting they started the fire the boys also confessed they were the ones who started the fire in the same school about a week ago. The officers believe that others may have been in the plot, and that the case may lead to further disclosures.

The fire last night did not do much damage, and was easily extinguished. The accidental discovery of the fire by Mr. Fort, however, probably prevented the school's destruction. According to Cook's story, Norwood ran away as soon as the fire was started, and left Cook to watch the result.

"He gave me the signal when to start it," young Norwood declared, "and I ran away as soon as the thing got going while he stuck around to watch it."

Cook, who is much taller and rather large for his age, blames the other boy. Both agree they had discussed the matter and decided to burn the school.

"He burned it the other time, and I had to do it tonight," Norwood said at the juvenile bureau. The police say the first fire caused a damage of nearly $1000.

Both boys were charged with arson and are at the Juvenile Hall pending further investigation.

DIES BEFORE FAMILY.

Contractor Shoots Himself in Presence of Wife and Children.

In the presence of his wife and seven children, D. Gomez, a subcontractor, of 508 Ord street, last night committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. When Patrolman Jensen and Detectives McCann and Gamash arrived the man was dead.

According to the story gathered by the officers from the wife and the neighbors, the couple had quarreled and the wife spoke about a divorce. The neighbors told the police they heard a few angry words spoken and in the next minute heard a shot.

MRS. LITCH MAY COME HERE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 10.—"Yes, that's his picture; there is no doubt about it," said Mrs. Mary M. Litch of Brookville, wife of Thomas K. Litch, after she had examined tonight a photograph of her husband sent here from Los Angeles.

"I also saw his picture in the Los Angeles Times," said Mrs. Litch. "I read all about the case, and many others here read it, too. That other woman [meaning Mrs. Maurine O. Kimball] says she didn't know that my husband was married. She did know that he was married because she was in Brookville two years ago and knew very well I was his wife. Her home is in New Bethlehem, Pa."

When asked if she intends to prosecute her husband, Mrs. Litch replied that she and her attorney discussed the matter today, but will have to go over the case more thoroughly before deciding what will be done.

"I don't know whether I'll go to Los Angeles," said Mrs. Litch. "We will decide on that within a few days."

No one appeared when the suit for alimony instituted by Mrs. Litch No. 2 was called by Judge Wood yesterday. The attorneys for the parties asked by telephone that the case be continued for one week, and this was done.

Mrs. Litch's suit for separate maintenance is pending. She alleged in her complaint that Mr. Litch married her, under the name of Kimball, in New Mexico, in September, 1917, and that he deserted her in Los Angeles. Mr. Litch, the son of a wealthy steel family of Pittsburgh, had another wife living in Pennsylvania from whom he had not been divorced when he married his second wife.

FREE FIGHT AT FOUNDRY.

A free-for-all fight, which resulted in a call for police and which sent a private detective to the Receiving Hospital, took place yesterday morning at the Graham Iron Works at 2734 Santa Fe avenue.

According to what the police learned, and statements made by Albert Hites, the private detective, several employees of the iron works were let out after the appointment of A. W. Kinney as manager. Among them was a foreman, who, it is said, had been acting manager. Threats, according to the police, were made against Mr. Kinney and the private detective was employed as a guard.

Yesterday morning, armed with a revolver, one of the discharged workmen is alleged to have relieved Detective Hites of his own weapon, and then set upon him with the assistance of several others and beaten him about the head and face. Robert E. Vaughn, son of Attorney Edward J. Vaughn, and also employed at the foundry, attempted to separate the struggling men and received several blows about the head.

According to Detective Hites, the identity of his assailants last night had not been established, with the exception that they were all ex-employees of the works, and no complaint was sworn out.

BEN LIVINGSTON ADMITS CHARGE

Shoe Merchant Takes Stand at Court-Martial.

Mother's Health Reason for Evading Army, He Says.

Government Rests its Case; Official Findings Next.

After an afternoon enlivened by many objections on the part of counsel for the defense, the United States rested yesterday in the prosecution of Ben Livingston, the Pasadena shoe merchant on trial before a court-martial at Fort MacArthur on a charge of being absent from military duty without leave.

The defense, represented by former Capt. Volney G. Hill, who lately retired from the army, then put Livingston on the stand in his own defense. Mr. Hill represented Robert Livingston, while still in the service, when the brother of the accused was tried on a charge of deserting. A decision in Robert Livingston's case has not yet been announced.

Ben Livingston's testimony on the stand yesterday was brief. He admitted his absence from duty, as charged, and explained that his reason was his solicitude for his mother, whose health was poor and who needed his supervision.

Evidence was introduced yesterday to show that Ben Livingston had been inducted into the service by the exemption board at Pasadena and was absent from August 21 until he arrived at Panama and returned on October 23.

The feature of the evidence was a statement signed by Livingston that is virtually a confession of all that the government charges. This statement was made to Capt. D. Marshall Taylor, then the investing officer, who testified that it was made voluntarily.

Col. Roger B. Colton of the court-martial objected to this statement on the ground that Taylor, being at the time judge-advocate of the court, was not a proper person to take it, but he was not sustained.

Capt. Taylor has since resigned as judge-advocate and from the army, to take up railroad construction work in China, Lieut. Ray Meacham is prosecuting Livingston.

In the statement signed by Ben Livingston, he admitted that he had gone to Philadelphia, where he met his mother and brother, and that he had sailed from New York for Panama under passports secured at Philadelphia under the name of Julio Marino. Robert Livingston and his mother sailed from New Orleans and they were to meet in Panama.

The case now will await the formal findings of the department heads.

FLU FIGURES DROP.

Quick Action is Taken in Case of Man Who Violated Quarantine.

Fifteen new cases and five deaths from influenza were reported to the health department, yesterday. Total number of new cases for Sunday and Monday was twenty-nine, compared with seventy-one cases for the corresponding days of last week.

Commenting on the situation last night, Health Commissioner Powers said: "Past experience shows that the epidemic has come in waves, each one being lower in number of cases and lighter in mortality. If Los Angeles avoids another 'wave' it will be through continued co-operation of the public in observing common-sense care along the lines that have been suggested. The advice: 'Influenza is expensive—it costs nothing to be careful,' is still as sound as when the epidemic was at its height."

Quick action was obtained yesterday when H. Riker, 620 South Flower street, was arrested for entering a room in a Hill-street hotel that was placarded for influenza. Within three hours, Riker was taken before Police Judge Richardson and fined $25.

HER :: EYES :: HER :: DOWNFALL.

Beauty Steals Fine Raiment to Match 'Em

Miss Florence Dalton.

The wonderful eyes of Miss Florence Dalton were her own downfall, she told detectives yesterday after her arrest at a Sevent-street shop while wearing a $100 gown for which she had not paid. She was trying to live up to her looks, she said.

The police characterized the young woman as the first "vampiro shop-lifter" on record. For a number of weeks costly articles of apparel have been reported missing from downtown stores after an attractive, well-dressed woman had been shopping, and in every instance the only description the sales persons could give was that the mysterious woman "had wonderful eyes." She looked like Theda Bara, they said.

Yesterday she was betrayed by her fatal beauty. At the New York store, Nick Harris detectives saw her slip an embroidered black silk dress valued at $97.50 under an outer coat she carried on her arm. A few minutes later she emerged from the fitting room wearing the gown, and was stopped as she was about to leave the store.

At the Detective Bureau, she told Mr. Harris and Detective Sergeants Bowe and Taylor that she is 22 years old, that her name is Miss Florence Dalton, and that she lived at the La Belle apartments on South Grand avenue. The name was her maiden one, she admitted, but she had reasumed it after she and her husband, who she said was Paul Hinkley, well known in automobile circles here, parted.

She wanted to go into pictures, she said but when she was told by the directors that she would require an expensive wardroble, she was in despair. She could think of only one way to get the gowns and hats and clothing necessary, and that was the method that caused her arrest.

After making complete confession to the detectives, she offered to show them where she had obtained everything, and return it in order that they might clean her slate!

Miss Dalton has lived in Los Angeles twelve years, and her family is well known here, it is said.

GENTLE RAIN IS GENERAL.

Slow-falling moisture, at times simply a fine mist, has fallen generally throughout Southern California during the past twenty-four hours, while in Central and Northern California some sections were visited by heavy rainfalls, accompanied by high winds. In practically all of the Southern California area the precipitation has been so gentle that it has soaked into the earth as fast as it came. This rainstorm has been much more beneficial than would have been a dashing rain of heavier volume.

Up to this date last season Los Angeles had received a rainfall of but 1.08 inches. It is interesting to note, however, that a rainstorm began here on February 17 of last year, and that rain fell every day for ten consecutive days, the precipitation for that period being approximately six inches.

No rain had fallen at San Bernardino up to 8 o'clock last night, but indications were that the precipitation would soon begin. A report from El Centro stated: "No storm here. All clear." A gentle rain began to fall at San Diego at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and continued throughout the evening.

GALE IN NORTH.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—An uproarious rain and blow, the second real soaker of the season, developed early this morning out of the gentle storm that stole in from the ocean Saturday afternoon.

But, though the wind played pranks with small property and the continuous downpour brought more water than some of the sewers could carry off, flooding street car tracks and basements here and there, the gale reached no havoc-working stage at San Francisco. At Eureka the blast howled along at seventy-six miles an hour, and at Point Reyes it rose to seventy-two miles an hour. The rain, through the State, while heavy and persistent from the Oregon almost to the Mexican line, has done little damage and great good. Reports indicated that the comparatively dry condition of the ground enabled it to soak up the water in large quantity, except in the northern part of the State.

SANATORIUM IS INVESTIGATED.

Norwalk State Hospital Head Looking Into Leaf Lodge.

Witnesses Give Testimony in Favor of Proprietor.

Two Women Declare Children Have been Well Treated.

Dr. W. B. Kern, superintendent of Norwalk State Hospital, near Downey, has begun an investigation of conditions at Leaf Lodge Sanatorium, as requested by Dr. J. W. Hatch, executive secretary of the State Lunacy Commission. Mrs. Nelle Wilson, proprietor of the sanatorium, has applied for a license, and the application has not been acted upon pending Dr. Kern's report.

The investigation was directed to be made as a result of testimony of alleged conditions at the sanatorium given at hearings in the $50,000 libel suit which Mrs. Wilson has brought against the Chicago Tribune.

Testimony favorable to Mrs. Wilson's management of the sanatorium was given at the hearings yesterday before Commission L. B. Binford in the Van Nuys Building. Mrs. May S. Sherbrooke, mother of the girl, Myrtle Sherbrooke, a patient, about whom testimony had been previously given, testified yesterday that her daughter had been treated "very well" at the sanatorium. She said that Myrtle had never complained of being ill treated and declared that the place is "clean and well kept."

Mrs. Lillian Eustis, mother of the 20-year-old young woman, Inez, of whom it had been testified that she was overworked and ill treated, said that although she had taken her daughter all over the country and even to London for treatment, Inez is improving more rapidly and her condition is better at Mrs. Wilson's than she ever was before.

THE LEATHER "JEWELRY."

She declared that she told Mrs. Wilson to punish her daughter for running away, and knew that the leather anklets or "jewelry," as she said Inez called them, had been put on to keep her daughter from leaving. The witness said:

"Mrs. Wilson is a kind motherly woman, and she is giving my daughter good care and spiritual treatment; that is, teaching her the difference between right and wrong and giving her Christian training. If Mrs. Wilson had a past police record, I believe that she has reformed. She pays my daughter $30 a month, from which Inez bought a Liberty Bond and buys her own clothes. There is no other institution in California that I know of where Inez would be as well off and as happy as she is now."

Mrs. Marion E. Hasson testified that her son is well treated there,

HIKERS LOST IN WILD CANYON.

Losing Trail After Climbing Mt. Baldy, Three Spend Night in Open.

Lost in one of the wildest portions of Bear Canyon, and after spending all of Saturday night outdoors in the cold, a party consisting of Dr. F. J. Purcell of Los Angeles and Mrs F. E. Jordan and Mrs. P. T. Perkins of Cleveland, O., were rescued by a searching party Sunday morning, it was learned yesterday.

The party was at the hotel at Mt. Baldy and left Saturday afternoon for a climb up the snow-clad peak. On the way back they missed the trail. When they failed to appear at the hotel, Manager G. A. Parks and W. S. Craig, a returned soldier, organized a party and located the lost hikers about sunrise. All were more or less exhausted from weariness and exposure.

MERRITT UP TODAY.

Will Face Federal Charge of Hoarding Five Bags of Sugar.

Hulett C. Merritt, the Pasadena millionaire, charged with having violated the food conservation law by hoarding 500 pounds of sugar, will face trial before a jury in United States District Judge Trippett's court this morning.

The government has subpoenaed about twenty witnesses, and but two have been called in behalf of Mr. Merritt through the government channels, although it is understood that the Pasadena man will have quite a number.

It is said on the part of Mr. Merritt, that while the sugar was found on his premises, that it was purchased without his knowledge by the butler and that he was in no way responsible when it was seized by Deputy United States Marshal Bassett.

The five bags of sugar are marked exhibit A, and have been in the safe of United States Marshal Walton since the seizure.

"I am making a fight for Earl Rogers—the Earl Rogers that we knew and admired. I want to put him back in the place he occupied," said Judge Reeve yesterday in granting Mr. Rogers a continuance of two weeks for examination on a charge of being addicted to stimulants.

Mr. Rogers is in the psychopathic ward of the County Hospital with a special trained nurse in attendance. He will come before the court two weeks from yesterday, when his case will be passed upon.

The People and Their Troubles

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

Business in Marriage.

BY DOROTHY DIX.

A woman writes:

"My husband feels that he has a right to boss me and the house because he supplies the money to support the establishment. He says that his word is law in his store, and he expects it to be law in his house; that, when he gives an order to his clerks or stenographers they carry it out without argument or question, and he expects me to obey him just as implicitly as they do.

"I claim that if he wishes to run his home on a business basis he should pay me a salary for the work I do, and treat me as he would treat an employee. Do you not think that I am right?"

Certainly you are. If a husband wants to eliminate sentiment from the home and put it on a financial basis—if he regards matrimony not as a partnership, but as a concern of which he is proprietor and sole owner and manager—he is not giving his wife a square deal unless he treats her as an employee and not as a slave.

No business man would expect to find an intelligent, competent woman who would work for him for her board and clothes. Nor would he expect an employee to give him a never failing loyalty and devotion without being adequately rewarded.

These are qualities for which any employer must pay dearly. Also an employer must treat his employees with justice and consideration. There is such a thing as an eight-hour law, and if for any reason employees labor beyond this specified time they are entitled to extra pay.

Likewise if an employer has an employee who is industrious and faithful, and who watches out for his interest in every way, that employer is careful not to hurt such a one's feelings, for lo, such employees can put on their hats and leave at a moment's notice.

Such is the status of the employee. If a man wants to put his wife in the same category she is certainly entitled to definite hours of work, and to a stipulated salary commensurate with her ability and the services she performs, and to the same degree of politeness and consideration that he would show to a lady clerk of a stenographer or a crackerjack saleswoman.

No employer would ask a woman employee to work fourteen or fifteen hours a day, yet that is what the average wife does. No employer would expect to find any highly competent woman who would come and work in his store for whatever he chose to give her, yet that is what the average wife gets out of her lifetime of labor.

No employer would expect any woman to stay on in his establishment if he adopted a surly attitude towards her and never spoke to her except to find fault with her, and if he made her the dumping ground for all the bad temper that he dared not show to anybody else. Yet that is what thousands of wives have to endure.

If a man put his home on a business basis his wife would be entitled to bring in a bill as housekeeper, seamstress, nurse, baby tender, professional shopper, social secretary and entertainer and companion, and if you would compute these items even on a moderate estimate they would come to a staggering amount.

No man realizes what she is worth until his wife dies and he tries to hire somebody to run his house and take care of his children, with results that are so bankrupting that he generally hastens to get married again as the best way of coping with the high cost of living.

And that does not take into consideration the spiritual quality that the wife puts into her work, the love and devotion that makes a woman sacrifice herself at every turn for her husband, that makes her consider his pleasure and happiness in every act that she does, that makes her watch over his health and his pocketbook as no hireling would ever do.

These are beyond all price, beyond the possibility of any man paying for, and for man to think that he more than offsets them because he furnishes the money that runs the home is ridiculous.

The idea of putting the home on a business basis would be a far better business proposition for wives than it would be for husbands. There are millions of women married to well-to-do men who never have a penny of their own to spend who would consider themselves rich if every Saturday night they could collect the wages of a cook.

There are millions of other women married to tyrannical men who would think themselves lucky if they ever got a Thursday out in which they were free to do as they pleased, as a hired girl does, and there are millions upon millions of women married to grouchy husbands who never say a pleasant word to them, who would think they were in the seventh heaven if their husbands were as pleasant at home as they are in their offices and treated them with as much courtesy as they do their stenographers.

Certainly, if a man thinks that he is entitled to boss his wife because he considers that he pays for her services, she is entitled to good, hard cash as the price for her obedience.

"Can a Woman Come Back."

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8.—[To Dorothy Dix, The Times:] Your article, "Can a Woman Come Back?" roused me to such a pitch that I am writing this to you as anxiously as though you were one with power to change the things that are to those that ought to be. The two questions the man asked you of the woman that he thought of marrying—"Can I trust this woman with the dark episode in her past, and will I be happy with her if I marry her?"—are two questions that ought also to be applied to every man before he takes to wife some sweet young woman.

A "dark episode"—ha! civilization laughs and crosses it lightly off the map when a man comes up to be weighed. Man's past has been his to do with as he desired, but the woman's past—ah. It's said that "the fruit she plucked from the tree of knowledge" should have been so bitter of taste.

You say a man's jealousy cannot endure the thought of another's kisses on his wife's lips, nor can his pride endure the suspicion that people gossip about her—when there isn't one married woman in a hundred that doesn't desire to think of something else when the subject of dissecting her husband's bachelorhood comes up.

I do not excuse any woman for indulging in a "dark episode," nor will I ever excuse the male, but when the question is asked about trusting the woman after the event, I answer that she has walked across the burning plowshares and will carry the scars on her feet to her dying day; that she will feel an agony of remorse that will keep her from being tempted again—much safer than a similarly episoded man.

Kill the Dogs? No!

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In reply to Mr. Gornier anent dogs, and his idea of ridding California of "man's best friend," I would say that if Dr. Harvey, as stated, advocates the "killing of dogs in the interest of food conservation," he fails to understand the situation. Very few dogs are fed anything but scraps and bones unfit for human use, and are really a help in lightening the garbage pail. If anything is ever bought for them they pay for it many times over by their faithfulness and devotion and the pleasure they give to the family that owns them.

Any one who can read of the dogs that did their part in helping to win the terrible war just ended, without a feeling of gratitude to them, has no sense of justice whatever. What about the dogs that kept the soldiers in the front line trenches alive by carrying them food which they could get in no other way, dogs that went through barrages of fire, hail of exploding shells, fumes of deadly gas, without flinching, to do their duty as they had been trained?

Red Cross dogs have saved thousands of wounded soldiers who otherwise would never have been found, or would not have survived without the help brought by these dogs. Although wounded many times, they never gave up, and for them the French government has given some of them the "War" for services of valor and distinction.

DID HE DO IT?

"We hear a lot of joking about the shortage of marriageable men on account of the war," he remarked, "and I guess it must be true, judging from a proposal I just heard of. Here was how she worked it:

"'There goes our minister. He's very poor. I wish I could hand him a five.' 'Let me do it,' exclaimed the youth, on whom she had designs. 'Oh, Archie, this is so sudden,' bubbled the sweet young thing. And

BONE-DRYNESS AND LIBERTY.

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 9.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In a letter to The Times, Norman Richards, attacking the prohibition amendment, asks, "What do we mean by making the world safe for democracy?" We mean, sir, first and foremost, that the "world" does not consist merely of California vineyards and their owners, nor of brewers and distillers. We contend, too, that the world will be rendered safer for democracy by withholding from it that temptation which, when yielded to, makes brutes of men and slaves of their families.

Is it not significant that the Personal Liberty League, which prates so loudly about personal rights, should have chosen for its name such a misfit as "Liberty?" It really hurts to hear the popping of corks, the draining of bottles, the drunkenness of saloons, the vice of gambling dens, and the bitter remorse of the jail and penitentiary spoken of in the same breath with liberty.

As for the "bureaucracy of the State Legislatures," far better that they should "jam and cram bone-dry prohibition down our throats," than that we should be allowed to swallow whisky, beer and wine in the guise of so-called "personal liberty."

Mr. Richards has called the Anti-Saloon League "a new Kaiser." So long as the principle remains unchanged, we shall stand by bone-dry prohibition, and, if necessary, would even go so far as to shout at the top of our voices, "Long live the new Kaiser!"

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It is difficult to understand why our State legislators should permit themselves to be carried off their feet by the prohibition fad. The best friends of prohibition cannot pretend that the law has been a success anywhere. Never has it been known to prohibit.

The professional prohibitionist is the exact counterpart of the Pharisees of old, who thanked God every day that they were so much better and holier than their fellowmen. No doubt, the liquor traffic has been bad enough, but the question is, will prohibition be any improvement? With the drug fiends, blind tigers and blind pigs, no doubt it will create a lot of fat berths in the way of officers, to try to enforce a law which it is impossible to enforce.

Of course, the prohibitionists think they are on top just now, and that they will run the earth to suit themselves. The German Kaiser thought the same thing, but he finally came to grief.

PLEADS GUILTY; GETS SURPRISE.

Counterfeiter Thought He Would Draw Short Term.

However, Must Serve Eight Years and Pay a Fine.

Worked at Camp Kearny and Made Bad Bills.

Frank C. Berek, alias Frank Brighter, charged with having in his possession fifty-nine one-hundred-dollar counterfeit bills of the Federal reserve bank, pleaded guilty before United States District Judge Trippet yesterday and was given a sentence of eight years in the Federal penitentiary at McNeil's Island, and a fine of $100. He was the most astonished individual in the courtroom, as he had withdrawn his plea of not guilty and believed he would get away with a light sentence.

It was the second time that Berek has been before a Federal court on the charge of counterfeiting, it developed during the course of the hearing. In 1914 he was convicted in Seattle for counterfeiting Canadian notes, and given four years at McNeil's Island. Released in August, 1917, he later went to San Diego, and got employment as civilian tailor at Camp Kearny, and hired a house in the outskirts of San Diego, where he carried on the work of making the bad bills. Later on he made an arrangement with a well-known smuggler in Mexico, who was to take the stuff down into Mexico and get rid of it. Berek came to Los Angeles to meet this man, and was taken into custody at a rooming-house on South Hill street, and the incriminating bills were found in his possession.

Berek changed his mind several times before agreeing to withdraw his plea of not guilty. Last week he said he would throw himself on the mercy of the court. Yesterday morning he wrote a note to Assistant United States District Attorney Moody that he would not do so unless he could be assured of a jail sentence. Then, after consulting his attorneys, he agreed to plead guilty. When the sentence was pronounced Berek was white with anger, and claimed that his attorney had "stood in" with the government in the imposition of the sentence.

While in the County Jail Berek made three attempts to escape. When taken into custody, Berek had about $1600 in real money in his possession, and it has stumped the secret service operatives to show where he got it. But a "lady friend" relieved him of $300 of this, it is said, while he was in the County Jail, and $600 more went for legal services.

PAYS BACK ALIMONY.

Joseph S. King, a moving-picture actor, paid up back alimony claimed by his wife, Hazel Buckham King, an actress, and yesterday Judge Wood marked off calendar a citation issued against Mr. King. Mrs. King was denied a divorce two years ago, and at that time Mr. King was ordered to pay her $17.50 a week alimony, for the support of herself and a little daughter, Joleen Hazel King. It was not paid promptly and Mr. King was cited into court.

GUESTS JAIL THEIR HOSTS.

Then they told how, although guests of honor at an elaborate feast in Chinatown Sunday night, sad duty compelled them to take two of their hosts to jail before the banquet could proceed.

It delayed the feast an hour, but the other guest of honor and the other sixty-odd hosts placidly and patiently awaited the return of the officers. For Chinese etiquette is just as lax and pliable as the laws of the Medes and the Persians.

The Wong family gave the banquet to celebrate the safe return of "Billy" Wong, wounded, from the bloody fields of France. "Billy" Wong is 25 years old, and is one of the sixty-three survivors of those 200 men of the One Hundred and Forty-third Artillery who volunteered as a replacement unit.

"Billy" is Chinatown's hero, and the idol of the Wong family, and when the rest of the family planned to feast him, they invited as guests of honor their good friends, Officers Jarvis, Jones and Littlejohn. At 11 o'clock the first number of the elaborate menu was to be served, but the three officers, arriving a little early, took a stroll along Apablasa street beforehand.

In front of 306 Jones stopped and sniffed the air. To his experienced nostrils was wafted a faint, familiar, forbidden odor. The three went to the second floor and Jones lifted himself to a transom. Within he saw a man preparing an opium pill, another gazing fondly at a toy of opium he had apparently just purchased, and a third doing nothing in particular.

Jones hung by his fingers during the one minute and ten seconds (by actual timing) that it requires to "roll the pill." Then the officers broke in and took the three Chinese to the station. There the roller of the pill disclosed himself as Wong Wing, the owner of the room as Wong Louie, and he who had contemplated the toy so joyfully as Chung Kem of Pasadena.

"Gosh," said Sergt. Jarvis. "We've nabbed two of the Wong family, and now we're late to dinner!"

Wong Louie was released, and put up $200 bail for Wong Wing. Then the two Wongs and the three officers returned to Chinatown, leaving Chung Kem, who hadn't been invited, anyway, to languish in jail.

It was midnight when the five entered the banquet hall, but not a bite had the Chinese tasted. The fungus soup was served at once, and soon the succulent fin of the shark, the roast duck served shee bin, the spiced old wine, and the nutted rice cakes had been sent to the tomb of their honorable ancestors.

"It was some feed," said Officer Jones afterwards, "but I sure hated to have to do what I did first."

DRAMA.

"MISSION PLAY."

FREDERICK WARDE IN ROLE OF FATHER JUNIPERO.

By Antony Anderson.

Frederick Warde, America's greatest dramatic actor, yesterday afternoon, in the role of Fra Junipero Serra, thrilled the big audience which, despite the rain, filled the Mission playhouse at San Gabriel for the opening performance of the 1919 season of the "Mission Play."

Mr. Warde's powerful, magnetic voice held everyone breathless—spellbound. Again and again came the call for Mr. Warde before the curtain. The eminent actor's reputation for thirty years as the most powerful reader on the American stage was again given an ovation by an enthusiastic audience. Not only did the glorious voice of Mr. Warde, with its rich modulations, make the hearers live and feel the character he portrayed, but his wonderful stage presence, his easy, graceful gestures, made one forget all but the beauty of the historic story of devotion and sacrifice of the early days of California.

To hear and to see Frederick Warde interpret the role of Father Junipero Serra is to see the Franciscan father reincarnated, to again live and feel the spirit of the missions. Never before was Fra Junipero portrayed as Frederick Warde portrays him. He not only inspires the audience, but the entire cast. Every member seems keyed to a new standard of dramatic art.

Miss Rosamonde Joyzelle, in the role of a grande dame of the old Spanish days, is charming. Her clear, sympathetic voice in the third act has a wonderful appeal.

The songs and dances of the "Mission Play" have been greatly elaborated and strengthened by John Steven McGroarty, the author. Margaret Carrer, the Australian singer, and Pedro Rivez are splendid in their duet of Spanish songs. Miss Carrer has an exceptionally pleasing soprano voice and Mr. Rivez a rich baritone.

One of the most picturesque figures in the cast this year is Chief Standing Bear, the Sioux Indian dancer. His barbaric headdress and full chieftain's regalia make a colorful picture.

Changes in the cast, aside from Mr. Warde in the leading role, include T. Ellingford, William Underwood and Frank Dudgeon.

"Something Doing" at Clune's. When Vera Ransdale, of the Will King company at Clune's Auditorium, steps onto the stage there is something doing; and last night when she sang "Everybody Shimmie Now," and said that "when her sweetie left her flat she shook the shimmie and brought him back" she stopped the show and made us all believe her. She is a soubrette de luxe. But the entire Will King company this week is excellent and their musical comedy, "Something Doing," is better than any of the New York shows of the vintage of 1907 that have come to this city for lo! these many moons.

The comedy itself is typical burlesque, although none of its jokes—and there are a lot of jokes—are burly enough to make you wish that you'd left your best girl at home with her mother. And the chorus girls are pretty, and wear stunning gowns that smack decidedly of N'Yawk and all that. And Will King brings out a new line this week, and Addie Beers, who must be a pretty girl when her make-up is off, somehow completely manages to dispel the blues that we all feel now that we know the country's gone dry.

And Jewel Lorraine, who is one of the most charming songstresses we've viewed in a long time, brings down the house with her "Blue Ridge Blues." Happily the impresario has selected a cycle of songs that are not hoary with age, among them the lovely "Birch Canoe," which is so delightfully sung by Dorothy Caldwell and the gells.

The vaudeville, with the exception of Jerry and Gretchen O'Mears in their musical protean novelty, Adolpho and his accordion, and the Norris Baboons, is only fair. Wright and Wilson, Scotch pantomimists, have evidently borrowed a great many of the stunts Bert Melrose has used for years on the Orpheum time, including his kilties and cotton gloves. McAvoy and Brooks, who bill themselves "the tall and short of vaudeville" are there with the emphasis on the short. Neither can sing, although McAvoy is a fair dancer.

"Under the Greenwood Tree." One of the prettiest and most fantastic bits of foolishness screened for many a day is "Under the Greenwood Tree," now shown at the California, with the charming Elsie Ferguson in the leading role, that of a poor rich young woman who is pursued by lovers enamored of her gold.

Mary Hamilton (that's the name of the heiress) has evidently read the story of Portia and the caskets to some purpose, for she hits upon a scheme that is almost as original as Portia's. She tests her lovers by taking them out under the greenwood tree, that she may watch their behavior under the trying conditions of camp life. They wilt—all but one, who happens to be in love with Miss Hamilton's "social secretary" anyhow.

Mary's particular wood holds almost as many enchantments as the Forest of Arden, and Miss Ferguson's Mary reminds us irresistibly of Rosalind, though Mary dons nothing more startling than a gypsy gown (very becoming, by the way, as Mary well knew.) Things begin to happen at a lively pace, and Mary finds the lover of her dreams, Jack Hutton, a young man who thinks she's nothing more than a thieving gypsy maid and who therefore cannot be marrying her for her money.

Light and delightful comedy permeates "Under the Greenwood Tree." The subtitles are full of bright humor and airy persiflage. The outdoor scenes are beautiful. The cast is excellent—Elsie Ferguson, Eugene O'Brien, Edward Burns, Mildred Havens, Henry Warwick, with others.

Other good things on the California bill are a Sidney Drew comedy, "Once a Mason," a tableau vivant, "Voices from the Moon" and a boxing match whose speed is retarded so much that the pugs become as graceful as sylphs.

"The Heart of Wetona." What's the matter with "The Heart of Wetona" at Tally's Broadway? The story is by George Scarborough, the scenario by Mary Murillo, the direction by Sidney Franklin, and Norma Talmadge plays the lead. Good names all, and according to the books the photoplay should go with a succession of big punches. But somehow it doesn't. Why?

I think I know the reason. Too much machinery. I fear that Mr. Scarborough started the wheels to going, everybody who came after him—scenario writer, actors, director—and certainly the author of the subtitles—heard 'em creak, and the sound proved discouraging. They sat down on the job and forgot about the punch.

The story begins well and ends well, and it's good in the middle, and the actors are a fine lot—Norma Talmadge, Thomas Meighan, Gladden James, Fred Huntley, et al. But half the time Miss Talmadge wasn't interested enough to remember that she was an Indian girl, and therefore her characterization is absurdly inconsistent. Wetona cannot have two skins and two sets of manners—yet Miss Talmadge gives them to her. Wetona has also two ways of speaking English, but this is probably the fault of the subtitle man. He does other things that he shouldn't. For instance, he makes a chevalier of the Episcopal church say, "Do you take this woman to be thy wedded wife?" Also, he leaves out commas without warrant, thus making some of the sentences incomprehensible.

Fred Huntley does good work as Quannah, chief of the Comanches; Thomas Meighan as John Hardin, Indian agent; and Gladden James as Anthony Wells, an arrant coward.

Pictorially "The Heart of Wetona" is very attractive, but dramatically it is mighty slow.

PABLO CASALS TONIGHT TRINITY AUDITORIUM.

Pablo Casals, the internationally famous violoncellist, who is to be heard for the first time in this city tonight at Trinity Auditorium, arrived yesterday. He came straight from the City of Mexico, where he gave thirteen consecutive concerts to capacity audiences.

This spectacular success but verifies his artistic career abroad and in America; he came here two years ago, and without sensational advertising has achieved a popular success that is usually only equaled by singers. He is the one artist about whose playing every musician is agreed, while the critics haven't offered a dissenting voice throughout his many appearances on this side. To the patron of music he is one of the idols of the day, as violoncello players with his superb equipment are quite as rare as voices such as Caruso or Galli-Curci.

Personally, he is one of the most charming of individuals, possessed of all the elegance of the well-bred Italian; he is accompanied by his wife, who was the American singer, Susan Metcalf.

A distinct honor has been given Will Garroway, the well-known Los Angeles accompanist, who has been chosen to occupy this difficult position with Mr. Casals for the California tour. The programme for tonight will include the famous Handel "Sonata," "Concerto in A" (Saint-Saens,) "Suite C Major" (Bach,) and a group, opening with the seldom-heard "Air" (Jean Huve,) "Papillons" (Faure,) "Mazurka" and "Tarantella," by Popper.

DEATH TAKES LOCAL ARTIST AND CRITIC.

Arthur G. Vernon, 34 years of age, a well-known artist and son of W. Vernon, the pioneer, who formerly owned the site of the town of Vernon, died on Saturday of diabetes. Mr. Vernon was a member of the California Art Club. He studied in Brittany and New York and was one of the modern and progressive painters. He returned to Los Angeles from abroad about two years ago and for a time was art critic on the Graphic. His widow, Mrs. Cora L. Vernon, is also an artist.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY LADY JANE.

After the regular meeting of the Woman's City Club yesterday afternoon at Hamburger's Auditorium, a business meeting was held, with Mrs. Ida I. Bellows, as chairman of the committee, presiding. Proposed amendments to the by-laws were revised. Mrs. Bellows made the announcements as chairman, but stated that her personal convictions are not wholly in sympathy with the revisions. After rather an extended apologia concerning her position, past and present, the chairman announced the revisions, which included a slight alteration in the phrasing of sections 1 and 4 in article 4, leaving sections 2 and 3 as they stand in the by-laws, and proffering an entirely new suggestion for section 5, in which the committee proposes that one week before the regular election a sample ballot shall be given to each member of the club in attendance on that day. Objection was raised to this plan, and decision was made to mail such ballots to members.

Mrs. Herman Darling, vice-president of the club, announced herself in favor of disposing of the primary election, which was to have taken place in March, and moved for one election only, to be held in May. Mrs. M. E. Johnson suggested that the subject be recommitted, as one member of the committee is absent. Dr. Jessie Russel raised an objection by saying that the amendment would have to be considered for one week prior to discussion, but the parliamentarian, Mrs. J. S. Osgood, removed the objection, saying that the subject was not changed, but only recommitted; Mrs. Darling won her point without further discussion.

Madeline Veverka, official lecturer for the Czecho-Slovak republic, in this country, provided the programme for both the Ebell and the Woman's City clubs yesterday, with her story of the Czechs of which she makes a most fascinating tale, which sounds like a fairy story, replete with legends. There is the poetry of the Slav, and the literary touches in all Miss Veverka has to say, and she holds her audience enchanted throughout her history. She tells of the beginnings of the race, and describes the love of country which animates them and which they learn from their mothers from the cradle.

At the Ebell Club, Anna Buzena Sprotte, contralto, sang a Slav programme and the Cherniavsky Trio played.

Broadway Department Store Employees Organize for the Year.

An enthusiastic War Savings Stamps gathering was held yesterday by the Broadway Department Store War Savings Society, which numbers more than 1,000 members. The meeting was addressed by John T. McBean, assistant State director, who outlined the government's programme of work for 1919.

The following officers were elected for the current year: H. S. Carroll, president; Miss Gertrude Powers, assistant president; W. Y. Smither, adviser, ex-officio; E. Willing Lewis, secretary, and vice-presidents E. E. Green, Mrs. Mae Carvell, G. O. Cassel, R. R. Musser, E. A. Hauptman, A. I. Robbins, Mrs. Nellie Schley, H. D. Perry, T. S. Milburn, C. L. Nicholas, E. L. Rudolph, Roy Howell, Miss Jane Randolph, A. E. Sjostrom, S. H. Bell, C. E. Britten, A. E. Amos, J. A. Robbinson, James Evans, J. Michalek and Miss Anna Boyd.

The Broadway Department Store War Savings Society for its quota last year was assigned $22,000. Purchases in War Savings Stamps aggregated $53,777 or more than double the quota. An effort is to be made, this year to better even this record.

STELLA MAYHEW WINS.

ORPHEUM BILL HAS MANY HITS IN A ROW.

By Grace Kingsley.

Down at the Orpheum yesterday, sitting right behind me, was one of those self-starting matinee girls. And she told everybody all around what the show was about and why. I thought, "What's the use of my writing the impressions made on my jaded theatrical senses? Why not let this fresh young thing tell the public about it right out in the paper. It's no secret what she thinks—everybody in the orchestra seats must have heard. Why hold out on the rest of the world?

When Stella Mayhew rolled out on the stage with her unctuous smile, and explained clubbily about the slowness of her act in getting started that "it had taken her a long time to move in," the sweet young thing was rattling along about her recent experience in learning the "shimmy," but she desisted long enough to express herself regarding Miss Mayhew. "She just is a darlin', isn't she. She's a blonde now—self-inflicted, too. Doesn't send up many rockets as a sylph, though. She calls her fat her 'salary,' and she's afraid she's going to get thin, she told my manicurist! Isn't that funny? Service flag? Oh, yes, her husband—her current husband, I mean—trained to go to war, but there wasn't war enough to go 'round, so he's coming home. . . . Oh, my yes, I love her in that coon stuff. She never did leave it off, even if it was out of style—just waited for it to come around again. Good sense, I say! That's funny, isn't it?—'My feet always hurt when it rains—I say it ain't no business o' theirs whether it rains or not!' She's stopping the show, and I'm glad of it, only I'm just crazy to see Leo Beers. He's the classiest thing! Oh, here he comes!

"Yes, once in a while he does pull a joke that needs cooking; still, he does it in such a nice, gentle way, you don't even have to blush if you're with a man. . . . Can't he tease the tinklers? . . . And the way he sings, in that quiet, cosy-corner way. Seems as if he's just calling on you, doesn't it. . . . My goodness, I wish he were! They say he's a stay-outer, and I'm going to Bob if he knows him.

"Irene and Bobby Smith—thought Bobbie was a boy, but she turns out to be one of those blonde cuties. She'll sing about 'ladies behaving like babies,' and rag while she does it. . . . There, I knew she would. Those blondes always do. Oh, retake, cutie, retake! But they know how to shoot their songs. Good troupers! Isn't she tall one a beauty! And their clothes—they perfectly do know how to dress!

"Nut comedians, Eddie Borden and partner! Welcome as Liberty Bonds, Eddie! They don't say a thing you can remember to tell next time you go to a party—it's such nutty stuff—but you like 'em while they're doing it. Eddie has dancing in his system, I know he has. . . . There, didn't I tell you? 'Will Ferry, The Frog!' India rubber stuff, of course, but what a pretty stage set! Neat act, isn't it?"

"Oh, I've seen Gus Edwards's revue, but it's much better this week, with the extra folk dance in it and the schoolroom act. . . . George LeMaire—my yes, he rings the bell! . . . Well, good-by deatie, I've got to go and have a fit!"

Symphony. Channing Pullock said once there were two classes of people—human beings and Ingenues. But cunning little Edith Roberts, at the Symphony this week in "Sue of the South," somehow manages to be both, as the delightful little girl who comes north in queer clothes, with her pet pig, to see her hard-hearted old uncle and straighten him out. Of course, she tells him what she thinks of him—and makes him like it! She even makes him like her pet pig!

Finally she goes back to the mountains, where neither guile nor Butterick has penetrated, arriving just in time to help her lover fight in a mountain feud. But her hard-hearted uncle can't stand the old house without her and her pet pig, and comes after her. She says she can't leave her lover, and so uncle, visited with a bright idea, says "Bring lovers along!" And they all lived happily ever after—or at least ever after lover has learned to use a fork and wear regular clothes.

Mary Pickford Moves. It's moving day today for Mary Pickford, who takes her "Daddy Long-Legs" clothes and her make-up box over to the Brunton studios today. And not only is she to have a nice, shiny, new glass studio, but she is to have a bungalow all for her own use as well. The bungalow will contain, besides dressing-rooms, a kitchen, dining-room and tiny parlor, and a Japanese servant will have charge of it all. Here Miss Pickford will have her meals and will rest between scenes.

Miss Pickford is announcing as her next story, Julie M. Lippmann's charming tale, "Burkses' Amy." Sidney Franklin will direct, as Marshal Neilan has been loaned to Anita Stewart.

Wally's New One. Wallace Reid's next picture play for Paramount will be Peter Kyne's story, "The Valley of the Giants," the rights of which have just been purchased by Famous Players-Lasky.

ARIZONA PROSPEROUS.

Plenty of Work for Returning Soldiers, Mining Man Says.

Business is booming in all the cities and mining districts of Arizona, according to John B. Redd, manager of the Davis-Bouronville Company's Los Angeles branch, who has just returned from a business trip. Many of the Arizona mines are purchasing oxy-acetylene welding outfits for repairing and keeping their machinery in working order, he said yesterday.

Most of the large mines are solving the problem of the returning soldiers and sailors by putting them to work at once, he said.

THROWN AWAY.

One idea of a foolish waste of money is to pay Jess Willard $100,000 to get him into a fight after Sammy Budd has fought the German army for $30 a month.

THE BIG ONES.

CLEAN AS DIRT.

Some of these boys have the idea that the back-to-the-soil idea means the soiling of the hands. After all, there is nothing purer than dirt. All things resolve into it if you give 'em time.

LURE OF THE CITY.

Lots of girls who have been doing war work in Washington don't want to go back to the old home, now that they can be spared. A little dash of the bright lights has spoiled the notes of "Home, Sweet Home," but, after all, a mother is a handy thing to have around—even for a budding girl.

REPUBLICANS STILL BARRED.

Through the appointment of Warren Olney, Jr., of Oakland to a vacant seat on the Supreme bench of the State Gov. Stephens discloses that the list of former Progressives out of political jobs has finally been exhausted, for Justice Olney is a Democrat. While Justice Olney possesses legal attainments qualifying him for the position to which he has just been appointed, the question naturally arises, "What was the matter with a Republican Governor appointing a Republican to the place?"

SOMEWHERE A VOICE IS CALLING

In its literature the telephone company urges patrons to do their traveling and visiting by 'phone. If a party is paying at the rate of about sixty cents a minute there is no fun in jollying up one's best friend—especially if you have to make peace with central every few minutes. There has always been a knock on wire gossipers. Why should they find favor now? Is the administration behind it? Is government operation of our public utilities to be in the interest of casual conversation or direct business? What kind of a country have we, anyhow? Will Postmaster-General Burleson please explain?

DEPORTING REDS.

More than fifty Russian labor agitators are being deported by the Federal government as a result of Bolshevist activities in the Northwest. These undesirables were guilty of treason to the American government; for they were all openly advocating the formation of a Bolshevist republic within territory belonging to the United States. The Federal authorities held, however, that the interests of justice would be served if they were returned to their own lands. One is not surprised that there should be a heavy migration of Russians at this time, especially of the working classes who were left to starve when the Bolshevist government expropriated the industries by which they were supported; but the surprise grows that any escaping from such a horror should seek to extend its scope. It must be remembered in behalf of the Russians, however, that, for the fifty deported, there are thousands who are learning the lessons of freedom and making of themselves substantial American citizens.

SUBSTANCE AND SHADOW.

Irish labor unions have established a new wage scale which includes an increase of 150 per cent. in pay and a reduction of working time to a forty-four-hour week. These increases are doubtless desirable from the point of view of the workman and his family; but it may be worth while to consider their unavoidable effect on Irish industry. The question resolves itself to whether it is better to be working for $18 a week than idle because one cannot command $40 a week.

Under the old rate of wages there was much unemployment in Ireland. Manufacturing industries did not offer an attractive profit to the investor, as it was held that better goods could be produced for the same price in England and Scotland. But, if there was no profit to the manufacturer under the old wage scales, what will happen to Irish industry under the new? If there were no dividends when labor was to be had at $15 a week, how long can the factory run when wages are advanced to $37.50 a week?

Here the inexorable law of supply and demand intervenes. The products of Ireland must come in open competition with those of the rest of the world; if this new wage scale were to be enforced the price which the manufacturer would be compelled to ask would be prohibitive. By demanding so excessive an increase the Irish workman is casting away his substance to grasp at a shadow.

HOOTS FOR SUCH WOMEN.

Women who build bonfires in front of the White House and burn President Wilson in effigy don't need the vote; they need spanking. And, at that, they should have something more than a motherly castigation of mild reproof. Some husky blacksmith with an arm like a bar of pig iron ought to lay them over his knee and paddle them until they beg for mercy. If that very thing were done it would do more toward breaking up the childish foolishness of these self-styled militant suffragettes than all the jail sentences that could ever be conferred. Judicial punishment is worn by these frenzied crusaders as a badge of honor. A nice, red, rosy spanking would be a decoration of disgrace and if by any chance it could get into the moving pictures the lesson would be complete. Any fussy matron who had been publicly spanked for the movies would be only too glad to go home and behave forever after. But some women seem to think that the way to get the vote is to prove that they ought not to have it. That the Senate went against them they have themselves only to blame. A wild woman without a vote is safer than one with a ballot in her hand. There is no doubt at all that the defeat of the suffrage amendment by a narrow margin in the Senate yesterday was due to the crazy antics of the bonfire band.

AMY LOWELL IN HOT WATER.

One may even go so far as to say that Amy Lowell invites the hot water that she gets into. She is high-tempered and radical, pugnacious and an indubitable genius, a hard worker and a fine poet. But she will quarrel; she will fling gauntlets to the four winds; she will do the curious experimental work in verse that sets the critics tittering and—well, the truth probably is that Miss Lowell doesn't mind scars and is not impervious to the advantages of—er—advertising. And she is daring.

Once upon a time she wrote a poem on her bathtub, with herself in it. A really fine piece of "vers libre." She read it at the Poetry Society in New York, and George Sylvester Viereck snickered aloud. Viereck was recently lifted bodily and violently from membership in the Poetry Society, but not because of his bad manners. His judgment was bad. He thought the Kaiser would win. Evidently that bathtub was filled with hot water, for the critics snickered and parodied and roasted. That was nothing new for Amy Lowell. Much like the man in the story who put his nose to the red-hot poker, she will try anything—once. She tried the conventional verse forms in "A Dome of Many-Colored Glass" and was sweetly sentimental and proper as became a Lowell, a great-niece or something of James Russell, and a sister of the president of Harvard. Then came, some four years later, "Sword Blades and Poppy Seed" in which appeared alarming symptoms of poetic heresy; a year later she utterly damned herself with the college professors by "Men, Women and Ghosts." She had done all manner of queer things with verse forms and written spirited letters and articles defending them. Which brings us to the latest "atrocity"—"Can Grande's Castle."

It seems to be Miss Lowell's peculiar fortune to do agitating things. She had found the true doctrine and apostles of poetry in France and shouldered her way to the head of the movement that tried to introduce into foot-loose English the refined, exacting French forms. But with characteristic abruptness, and right, as one might say, in the heyday of victory when venerable magazines were buying "free verse," Miss Lowell gathered up her skirts and leaped headlong into more hot water. It wasn't victory she wanted; it was a fight. Since people had begun to think "free verse" was all right and Tennyson an old fogy Miss Lowell found it necessary to grow.

She did—into polyphonic prose. And the poetic world is divided more than "all Gaul." It is wrong to say Miss Lowell selected "polyphonic prose" for sensational purposes. She is not sensational; she has never done anything sensationally—she does the unexpected and does it with mastery. Polyphonic prose looks just like any other kind of prose; and it is likely to read like a Fourth of July oration. The art is to keep the oratorical rhythm and evade rhetorical monotony, at the same time refining the phrases and periods to a poetic vividity and precision. One important and perhaps the most distinguished of American critics announces that he doesn't care for polyphonic forms; and Miss Lowell retorts that she can remember when he "didn't care for free-verse forms." One faction insists that "Can Grande's Castle" isn't poetry at all. Of course it isn't; it is very definitely called "prose." But a lot of young zealots are astounded at the stupidity of people who can't tell that a thing is poetry—real big poetry—even though it is called prose. What is in a name? Why, about all the misunderstandings that have taken place in the poetry circles during the past ten years. Is "polyphonic prose" merely prose, or is it really poetry? Amy Lowell—say the critics, or some of them—is a poet, a fine poet; and "Can Grande's Castle" is a fine book—but it isn't poetry. No; by the Great Horn Spoon, no! Poetry—why poetry is——? What? These days learned men are writing fat books trying to explain what poetry is without venturing to define it. As a matter of fact "poetry" is a typographical arrangement on the page that doesn't conflict with the poetic impressions implanted in the critic during childhood by "Mother Goose."

But, while the argument goes on, Miss Lowell must remain in her hot water. "Can Grande's Castle" is selling like the proverbial hot cake; but is it poetry or is it prose? Is she to be thrown out of the Poetry Society like the snickering Viereck and compelled to make her way among the "beautiful" prose writers, like Booth Tarkington, George Branch Cabell and word painters like Harold Bell Wright and Cosmo Hamilton; or is her prose, after all, poetry? And of course all this controversy, which helps to sell her book and to increase her fame, causes Miss Lowell to be very distressed.

Representative Rainey, a Democrat from the Twentieth Illinois District, spilled the beans the other day when, during the debate on the revenue bill, he said that a revision of the tariff law might soon be necessary. The Carrollton Democrat is likely to have himself read out of the party. To intimate that a protective tariff law should be enacted is rank party treason.

No Money and no Job.

WORLD TRIBUTE TO ROOSEVELT.

In the midst of its process of reconstruction the world paused on Sunday to lay a wreath on the tomb of Theodore Roosevelt. Putting aside for the moment the greatest task that has confronted them statesmen in the old world and the new joined with the general public in the most wonderful union of memorial services ever known. In the past dead kings and notable commoners have been splendidly honored, each in his own country, but on Sunday services were held in great capitals on both sides of the Atlantic and in numerous smaller cities for a private citizen of America. This universal tribute, so generous and heartfelt, was a worthy acknowledgment of the greatest of the former Presidents, but it was something more—it was an expression of the fact that Theodore Roosevelt belongs, not to America alone, but to the world. His memory is enshrined in the hearts of the people of both hemispheres.

The services in the United States were notable both for their number and for the variety of men who delivered eulogies. Roosevelt was so many-sided that he counted friends by the legion in all walks of life and of many nationalities. Statesmen, army and navy men, Governors, Mayors, ministers and plain, every-day persons united in praise of his great achievements and in commending him as an example of the highest type of American citizen.

In Washington there have been not a few memorial gatherings of unusual note, but the services for Roosevelt, marked by a splendid simplicity, were of a character which reached the very height of perfection. Not only were the three branches of the government represented, but the envoys of foreign nations joined to honor a man who, as Senator Lodge said, was unusual even among the leaders of men.

Great significance attaches to the services held in London and in Paris. In London many of the greatest and most powerful men of the British Empire attended at Westminster Abbey, within whose venerable walls was held for the first time a memorial service for one not of British birth. This, perhaps, was the most wonderful of all the tributes paid to the memory of the great American. Westminster Abbey is the burial place of British kings and their greatest subjects and no finer method of respect could have been devised in honor of Col. Roosevelt than the impressive ceremony in the historic abbey.

Los Angeles, of course, joined with the rest of the world in expressing the honor and affection which Roosevelt commanded here. He was personally known to many of our leading citizens and thousands of our people have pleasant recollections of having seen and heard him during his visits to the Pacific Coast.

Many striking speeches were made at the services held for the great American and from them we reproduce the following as typical of the thousands of tributes:

"He was a great patriot, a great man; above all, a great American. His country was the ruling passion of his life from the beginning, even to the end."—[Senator Lodge.

"Roosevelt sacrificed himself—cut short his life—by his untiring and successful efforts to rouse his countrymen to the true nature of the great crisis which they faced. As truly as if he had fallen on the field of battle he is a fallen hero of the war."—[Archdeacon Carnegie in Westminster Abbey.

"A Christian, ever turning with faith and confidence to his God for strength and guidance."—[Rev. Dr. Henry N. Couden, blind chaplain of the House of Representatives.

"Theodore Roosevelt was the most inspiring and most dominant figure in American life since Abraham Lincoln."—[Maj.-Gen. Wood.

"Mr. Roosevelt had punch and personality. . . . He incarnated the fighting spirit of America. He did not sniff the battle from afar. He drank deeply of its fire at the storm's center."—[William G. McAdoo.

"Theodore Roosevelt was the Bolshevists' greatest enemy. One hundred per cent. American, he took his stand against the hyphen and maintained that the English language is the proper tongue for Americans."—[Gov. Stephens.

"One of his great principles was law and order. Were he here now he would say that this is a city of homes which we must protect; and we shall use all our power to check Bolshevism and I.W.W.-ism and other lawlessness."—[Mayor Woodman.

"He represented the ideal of Christian manhood, although he was not a soft, sentimental Christian, but one whose creed was virile and practicable."—[Rev. Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher.

"A polished gentleman, a tender husband and father, a finished statesman."—[Former Senator Frank P. Flint.

PASSING OF THE "FLU."

Figures showing that the dread influenza epidemic is waning rapidly bring relief and thanksgiving to people all over the United States. Added to the pleasure of learning that the epidemic has fallen to a very low point in this city, Angelenos have the satisfaction of knowing that Los Angeles has been about the safest large city in the country so far as influenza is concerned.

Diagrams indicating the progress of the disease compiled by State, city and government health officials strikingly show how Los Angeles has been favored. At no time during the epidemic did the mortality rate here go as high as seventy deaths per week per 100,000 population. Several cities, including San Francisco, Boston and Washington, had maximum mortality rates of 150 per week per 100,000 population and some cities suffered even more severely than that.

A diagram, or chart, published in last Sunday's Times, taken from the American Journal of Public Health, impressively shows the deaths by weeks, during the peak period, of a number of large cities, including Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore, New Orleans, Chicago, New York, Pittsburgh, San Francisco, Cleveland and Los Angeles. Philadelphia's peak line goes highest of all and Los Angeles is the lowest.

Another diagram in last Sunday's Times is a combination of four charts in the official bulletin of the California Board of Health comparing the death rate in four California cities—San Francisco, Sacramento, Stockton and Los Angeles. The Los Angeles mortality curve line is much lower than any of the others, notably below that of San Francisco, where the wearing of masks was made compulsory.

A third diagram is an eloquent commentary on certain measures used to combat the epidemic. Mortality curve lines are shown for four representative American cities—Boston, Buffalo, Washington and San Francisco. The curve lines for all four cities are almost identical, each indicating a high mortality rate of about 150 per week per 100,000 population. San Francisco was the only one of the four to order the general use of masks by the public. Boston did not close until the peak of the epidemic had passed. Washington ordered almost everything closed at the first appearance of the disease.

This influenza epidemic continues to baffle and mystify physicians and laymen alike, but experience seems to have determined several important points. Judging by official figures the wearing of masks by the public does no good whatever. Closing, at least in large cities, does not affect the progress of the epidemic. The system of quarantine, rigid inspection and case reporting adopted by Los Angeles is to some extent efficacious. It has been commended by health officials in other cities. Los Angeles has again been shown to be favored by climatic conditions that make for health.

REVEALED HIMSELF.

Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, attacking the President's Republican critics, finds it possible to believe that they would not be displeased to find his name on the casualty list. That is what Mr. Lewis thinks a Republican is like, and he thinks so because he imagines if he were a Republican that is the kind of Republican he would be. So we know more about Senator Lewis than we knew before.—[New York Tribune.

WALT MASON.

"DRY" AMENDMENT CAN'T BE ENFORCED.

[From George Harvey's Weekly.]

The New York Sun, an advocate of prohibition, lays its finger on a weakness in the recently ratified prohibition amendment to the Constitution which promises indefinite delay in giving vitality to the measure, even if it does not result in its ultimate defeat.

The joint Congressional resolution just indorsed by the Legislatures of forty States, four more than necessary, as a Constitutional amendment, makes no provision for enforcement. That must be provided by other legislation. But there is no provision designating the legislators who are to enact these enforcement laws. This vital question is left in a state of such confusion that the temptation is strong to regard as deliberate the actual ineptitude in that respect of the joint resolution as it was passed by both Houses of Congress. The enforcement clause of the resolution as it went to the States for their ratification, and was by forty of them so ratified, is as follows:

"The Congress and the several States shall have concurrent power to enforce this Article by appropriate legislation."

Concurrent action between the House and Senate of Congress and between the Houses and Senates of the several States is understandable. It means entire agreement on every detail of any measure introduced. It means that House and Senate must separately pass identically the same bill. But how is this concurrence between the Federal Congress and the Legislatures of the several States to be established? Is an enforcement act passed by both branches of Congress to go from Congress, as an upper house, to forty-eight State Legislatures, as a lower house, for concurrence? And suppose all these forty-eight Legislatures do not act as one, but as forty-eight? Suppose each one of them enacts an enforcement law different from all the others, and none of them in agreement with the Federal law? That is not beyond the bounds of possibility, even if it is more improbable than that only a State here and there fails to approve the Federal measure. In either case there would be failure of Congress and the several States to "concur," and without that concurrence in methods of enforcement there would be failure of power to enforce, for power to enforce is conferred by the joint resolution on the specific condition of concurrence.

If an enforcement act passed by the Federal Congress went to each of the several States for concurrence, might it not by each of them be sent back to Congress with amendments to be discussed and debated, tossed back and forth from Federal House to Federal Senate, until accepted or defeated as the case might be? In that event there might be amendments from each of the forty-eight States to be thus disposed of, and each of the forty-eight States might make not one, but a dozen, amendments, each one to go through Congress on its own merits in the usual routine of procedure. In such case, were we living in the days of Methusaleh, some of us might possibly survive long enough to see the prohibition amendment enforced. But it would be rash to wager even on that.

"Does it mean that if Washington enacts one law and Albany fails to concur, or if Albany passes its laws and Washington fails to concur, there shall be a failure of legislation altogether; as happens when the Senate passes a bill or a resolution and the House does not concur? In that case the attempt at concurrence between the nation and the State would nullify the principle of the amendment so far as that particular State was concerned.

"Does it mean that a law enacted by Washington shall have force only where the States have not otherwise provided? That interpretation of the amendment is scarcely conceivable."

The Sun is authority for the statement that there are Constitutional lawyers in Congress and elsewhere who believe that a second amendment is necessary to relieve the mix-up of non-related authorities and to define, intelligibly, ways and means of enforcement. This would imply that the entire prohibition amendment legislation and ratification would have to be done all over again.

Just why so faultily drawn a measure was permitted to pass is either very mysterious or very self-evident. If the statesmen who drew it and the statesmen in Congress who enacted it did not see its confused futility, that is indeed a mystery, for there are as keen lawyers in Congress as may be found in the country. If it was drawn and passed to serve a makeshift political purpose with the set intention of rendering enforcement an impossibility, then the reason for wording the amendment as it stands is obvious. This theory, too, might possibly throw some light of explanation on the astonishing spectacle of forty State Legislatures fairly tumbling over each other in their exultant eagerness to ratify a measure which every one of the scores of bright lawyers in such Legislatures must have known was fatally handicapped, so far as enforcement is concerned.

What did the young woman merly do to get the shine of her noses? That is a question for peace envoys.

Get ready to pay your income revenue taxes. Just how much Uncle Sam needs the money it will not be politic to state.

The Huns are now weighing the armistice terms and refusing to carry out all of its provisions characteristic Hun performance.

Congress is talking about the get system seriously, but even members of Congress will confess they could not run a wife on one.

The weary postman on his rounds is distributing the spring seed catalogue in large numbers. Are we to have the war gardens again in midst?

Another thing, with the coming national prohibition we shall be free of the presence of the man who insisted in crying about his wife after the third drink.

Of course Great Britain is in favor of universal peace and a League of Nations, but in order to be ready for the eventualities she will keep a million men in commission.

The Irish republic is all dressed up, but is getting nowhere. It will be tough on the mercurial Irish to be treated with silent disdain by the English government.

The Greek troops have occupied Turkish Thrace, recalling the famous line employed by John Mc...lough in "The Gladiator," "There are green hills in Thrace."

More than one million men have been demobilized, according to a statement of Gen. March. Evidently he is of the opinion that the way to demobilize is to demobilize.

Italy and Belgium have another "touch" on Uncle Sam. If it were not for America they would be in the bread line—with no bread at the end of the line.

Francis J. Heney says the women tried to buy him. Frank wishes to have accepted the money and would have enabled him to pay his campaign debts in Los Angeles.

Ships of the Zeppelin type to make the trip in the air from New York to Chicago will charge $100 for the journey one way. Which is rather high, remembering the tips on the Pullman porters.

It will be possible for one to file his or her income tax with the certificates, but of course if they have no income tax to pay it will hardly be expected that they will any treasury certificates.

As we understand the situation Germany can now get American goods if she has the money. That is the situation with all of us on this side of the big pond. If we can't revel in the delights of cheap

The new revenue bill is before the Senate and its provisions into law is but a matter of a few days. It seems to be the belief of those in touch with the situation that the rates are too low.

If the Peace Conference delegates men as they are instead of as they ought to be much desirable work will be made. Rhetorical flights and phrase-mongering, flights, etc., are all very well in their way, but it is the practical facing the delegates to the conference.

If clouds came not between us
Our vision and the sun,
Then were no shadows seen,
And when the days were done
And autumn gave its meed

Through faith's rainbow fair,
We might not heed God's love,

Despite our earnest
He purifies by fire.

Come sunshine then, or shade,
Come clouds or Come, overruling
In varying forms of

BOYS PLAY MONKEY.

Small boys with cave-men instincts have been causing no end of trouble in the 700 block on East Seventh street, according to complaints to the police from that neighborhood during the past few days.

The youths pretend they are monkeys and have made nests in the trees overhanging the sidewalk in the vicinity, an investigation developed, instead of dropping cocoanuts, however, it is said the miscreants attempt to emulate their antecedents of thousands of years ago by dropping sticks and mud balls on the heads of pedestrians passing below. The police say they will put a stop to the monkey business.

EXPERIENCES IN WAR ZONE.

Pasadenans Relate Some at Reception for Them.

Epidemic Over, Schools Open, Attendance Normal.

Winter Tourists Continue to Swell Guest Lists.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Feb. 10.—Three distinguished Pasadenans who saw service overseas were honored at a reception arranged by the Pasadena Board of Trade and held in the auditorium of the First Methodist Church tonight. The men honored were Maj. J. B. Coulston, chairman of the County Liberty Loan Committee, who has just returned from Red Cross service in France; Maj. Charles D. Lockwood, organizer of the Pasadena ambulance company, who is back from army medical service in France, and Rev. Merle N. Smith, pastor of the First Methodist Church, who was in France for the Y.M.C.A. Dr. Smith returned some time ago, but the ban on public meetings at that time precluded any public welcome. At the reception tonight the three guests of honor spoke, telling some of their experiences in the war zone.

SCHOOLS OPEN AGAIN.

Pasadena public schools reopened today with a normal attendance and excellent prospects of intensive school work from now until the summer vacation. Dr. E. B. Hoag of the child welfare department of the schools, assisted by local physicians and the Red Cross Nursing Service, visited the different schools and pronounced the health of the children excellent. A few got wet in the rain this morning and were sent home for dry clothing.

WINTER VISITORS COMING.

More winter residents and visitors are arriving in Pasadena every day. An arrival tomorrow will be J. J. Mitchell, president of the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago, and his family, who will occupy their winter home in Oak Knoll for the balance of the winter season. New guests are arriving daily at the Pasadena hotels. Many social affairs at the hotels and country clubs are engaging the winter colony. A big affair scheduled for tomorrow night is the dinner dance ball and supper dance at the Green, which will formally inaugurate the winter social season at that hostelry.

G. Thomas of 4347 South Hoover street, this city. As a result of the collision, three coaches of the train were derailed and the automobile was wrecked.

United States District Attorney J. Robert O'Connor, and Special Assistant W. Fleet Palmer, and the conclusion was reached that at the present time there is no remedy in the Federal law for the condition in evidence in the orange groves.

It was suggested that the strikers might be deported as undesirable aliens, but this would not be practical in the present instance at least, for the reason that the great majority of the Bolsheviki are Mexicans, and if finally adjudicated to be undesirable citizens, and sent across the border, they would get back into the United States about as quickly as the officers who escorted them to the line. It was stated that if any belong to some country farther off, Japan for instance, they might be sent away, and could be prevented from coming back.

The Federal officials said that, while the language of the strikers was treasonable in a measure, it would be something else to prove it; and, as they have not engaged in any overt act in harmony with their revolutionary doctrines, it would be impossible to successfully prosecute them from that point of view. It is no violation of law to counsel a strike, the officials said.

The conclusion was reached that a strict watch should be kept on the suspects, and if anything turned up that will give the government cause to act, there will be no hesitancy in putting the governmental machinery in motion.

EAST TALKS OF McADOO.

Washington Democrats Think He May Run for President.

Democratic politicians are talking of William G. McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury and Director-General of the Railroads, as their next standard bearer, according to Dist.-Atty. Woolwine, who returned yesterday from Washington, D. C. While in the East, Mr. Woolwine submitted arguments in the United States Supreme Court against an appeal on a case of extradition from Louisiana.

The District Attorney says that Washington politicians are discussing with interest the chances of the nomination of Mr. McAdoo for the Presidency. Mr. McAdoo says he will not run.

The Best Cough Medicine.

When a druggist finds that his customers all speak well of a certain preparation, he forms a good opinion of it, and when in need of such a medicine is almost certain to use it himself and in his family. This is why so many druggists use and recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. J. B. FLYERS HERE ON CHARTING TRIP.

Three Army Airplanes are on Way Back to Texas.

Flew from San Diego Within Forty Minutes, They Say.

Are Taking Observations for the Government.

Three DeHaviland army airplanes, equipped with 400-horse-power Liberty motors, which made the premier flight from Ellington Field, Texas, to Rockwell Field, San Diego, arriving there last Thursday, started on the return flight yesterday noon.

The six men in the party, with Lieut. R. O. Searle as flight commander, are now in Los Angeles, having arrived here shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Their stay in this city will be determined by weather conditions in Southern California and Arizona.

Lieut. Searle last night said that the flight from Ellington Field to Rockwell Field had been an entirely successful one, with no motor troubles, and that the only accident occurred at Phoenix. Four DeHavilands that made the start had all reached Phoenix, but one of the planes in landing on soft soil sank its wheels in to the hub, and was overturned, cracking one of the wings. With no material available for repairs, it was decided to dismantle the plane, load in on a flat car and return it to Ellington Field.

MEET IDEAL WEATHER.

The flying time from Ellington Field to Rockwell Field was 317 minutes. The time from Phoenix to Rockwell Field was an even 200 minutes. From Yuma the planes made a direct westerly line to San Diego. The weather conditions were ideal, and the flyers made an average of 250 miles a day. In Western Texas and New Mexico, however, they encountered sand storms that gave them considerable work.

The personnel of the flight party is: Lieut. R. O. Searle, flight commander; Lieuts. Howard Burkett, E. D. Jones, Charles Rugh and Eric Nelson, and Sergt. W. E. Cain. Lewis Lewyn is the photographer, but he will proceed from here by train to the Grand Canyon, where he will join the flyers again. The party is taking observations, charting lanes, etc., and making series of photographs along the routes traversed.

QUICK FLIGHT HERE.

The DeHavilands left Rockwell Field at 12:25 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the aviators said, and at 1:04 o'clock the three planes were flying over the Los Angeles Courthouse. They were in fair weather until a short distance south of San Pedro, flying at an average altitude of 4000 feet. The storm clouds were about 2000 feet below them, and they descended through these in order to fly at a low altitude over Los Angeles. Two of the planes are at Venice and the third is in a field about twelve miles south of the city.

On the eastern trip, the route will be from Los Angeles to Riverside; thence directly to Kingman, Ariz.; then to Flagstaff, Prescott, Jerome and Clarkdale, Holbrook, Gallup, Albuquerque and Tucumcari, N. M.; Lubbock, Sweetwater, Brownwood and Waco, Tex., and then back to Ellington Field.

Ellington Field, says Lieut. Searle, has 2700 men, and indications are that they will all be held in the service.

LEAVES HUSBAND LITTLE

Woman's Will Bequeaths Him Five Dollars; was Cruel, She Wrote.

John E. Maginness will receive only $5 of the $6000 estate of Mrs. Ollie B. Maginness, according to a will filed for probate yesterday. Mrs. Maginness died in this city on February 2 last. In her will she explained that she did not bequeath more of her estate to her husband because for years past he had been cruel and neglectful of her. She recites in the will that he was "guilty of physical violence towards me, embezzled my money and attempted to incumber and mortgage my property."

The will provides that the estate shall go to her children by a former marriage, Charles C. Buser, New Orleans; Fred C. Buser, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Zola E. Schmidt of Los Angeles.

TO BE GUARDIAN.

H. Valhoff filed a petition in Superior Court yesterday asking to be appointed guardian for Jacob Jaconovich, who recently claimed he was swindled out of $1250. Jaconovich is now at Norwalk asylum. He has an estate of about $4000.

TWO WIVES FIGHT HIM.

One Wants an Annulment, Other Sues for a Divorce.

Because Paul Milton Robinson married two women under the name of Wishard and failed to be free of one before he wed the other, the women were in Judge York's court yesterday to disentangle the matrimonial lines. Mrs. Elizabeth Wishard, who was formerly Elizabeth Warren Boyd, was married to the defendant in May, 1916. Four days later, she told the court in annulment proceedings that he deserted her.

Subsequently she sued for divorce, but learning from her husband's parents that he had a former wife living, she withdrew the divorce action and brought a suit for annulment.

Mrs. Bena Wishard, the first wife, was a witness for wife No. 2. She testified she married the defendant on September 2, 1914, and had never been divorced. She has a suit for divorce coming before the court today. Judge York continued the annulment suit until evidence in the divorce action can be heard.

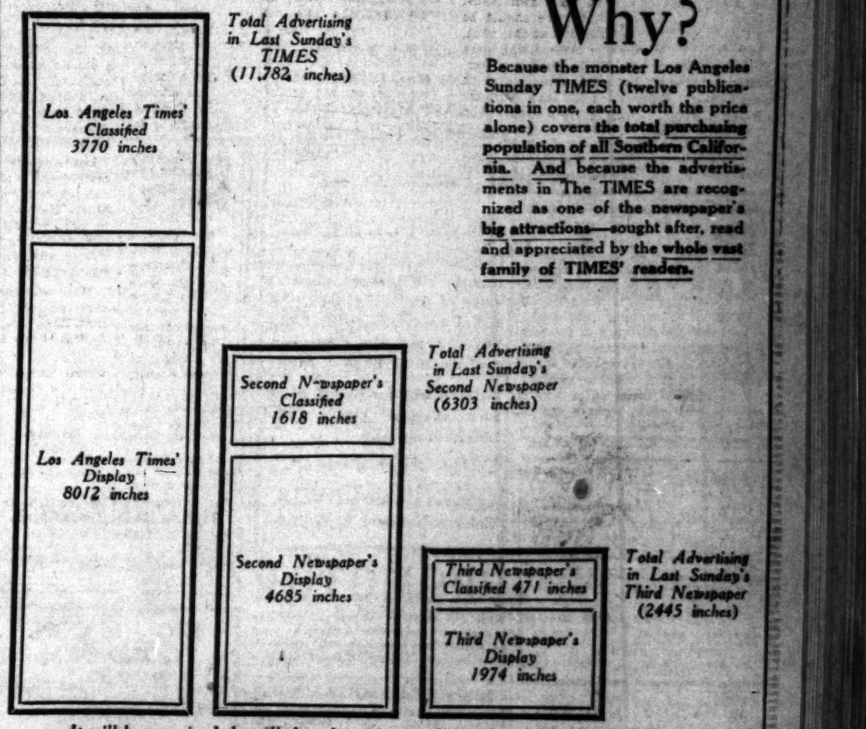
Why?

Because the monster Los Angeles Sunday TIMES (twelve publications in one, each worth the price alone) covers the total purchasing population of all Southern California. And because the advertisments in The TIMES are recognized as one of the newspaper's big attractions—sought after, read and appreciated by the whole vast family of TIMES' readers.



It will be perceived that all the advertising of all kinds in all the other Sunday newspapers is about equal to THE TIMES display advertising alone

BUSINESS NEWS MEDLEY.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

Monday is sometimes called a stem-winder, because it is the day on which the business clock is wound for the balance of the week. This, together with storm conditions which affected retail trade and a waiting market, served to keep the activities of the day from creating any undue excitement.

However, the favorable news from Seattle, a better tone in cotton and copper conditions, and a feeling that out of the current labor troubles, an early peace will come, very largely offset the temporary depression, while in the rain itself there was much of promise.

Just one generation ago—thirty years this morning—the Security Savings Bank opened its doors in a small building on North Main street. The few thousand individuals who formed the population of Los Angeles were informed in modest announcement that the new bank opened with two policies: "Advertise for business; attend to business." Joseph B. Sartori was cashier of the bank when it opened, and a few months later was elected president.

Ever since that February morning the Security bank has builded upon those two foundation stones—"Advertise for business, attend to business," and upon this twin policy the bank has shown one of the most consistent records of growth of any bank in the United States. As it grew Mr. Sartori incorporated into the organization some of the best banking talent upon the Pacific Coast. The original "savings bank" has added department after department, until its equipment now includes every service which it is legal for a bank or trust company to handle.

The immense banking plant at Fifth and Spring streets is one of the show places of the city. Its assets are more than $56,000,000, and at the close of business yesterday the total number of deposit accounts exceeded 98,500, which is said to be more than the number of homes in the city of Los Angeles. All through its career the institution has been closely identified with the growth and prosperity of the city, where it has achieved that rare accomplishment, the development of "personality," and with it the confidence and affection of the community.

Secretary of the Treasury Glass has again gone after what he terms "Liberty Loan swindlers," and has issued a statement which fairly sizzles with indignation directed against dealers who make a business of purchasing bonds far below their actual worth. In concluding his warning, the Secretary says: "Owners of Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps should in no circumstances part with these securities unless necessity compels, and then they should deal only with reliable banks, trust companies, banking institutions, and others whose reputation for integrity is beyond question. If it is necessary to sell Liberty Bonds the highest market value should be received."

The volume of municipal borrowing at large in the opening month of 1919 shows an increase over the last few months of 1918. New issues sold in January amount to about $24,000,000. If 1919 is a normal year and if the $180,000,000 or more that was held up in 1918 by the war is added, the total should be about $700,000,000, or an average per month of $58,000,000.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Mines and Oil, through its executive committee, has indorsed the United States government specifications for motor fuel, as determined by the national committee on standardization of petroleum products. "In our judgment," the report says, "if the government specifications are adopted there is every reason to believe that prices will remain normal. However, should higher specifications prevail a sharp advance in price will follow." The City Council is urged to adopt the government standard as that of the municipality.

With various schools offering curriculums within earshot of Los Angeles, there is a scarcity of fish, and those which do reach the local market are at advanced price. San Francisco is responsible. There has been a recent and unexpected demand from the north for southern catches, and as a result heavy exports have affected the local market. Barracuda and halibut have each advanced 2 cents a pound, wholesale, and salmon is almost "not" at 36 cents, wholesale. Rock cod is 15 cents, mackerel 15 cents, cockles 12½ cents, and bonita 11 cents a pound, wholesale.

Grocers are refraining from placing heavy advance orders for canned goods. There is a feeling, "hunch" is the term used, throughout the trade, that the next cut in the high cost of living may be in commodities which come in tin overcoats. There are known to be heavy stocks in warehouses, and the government may release a large quantity before long.

The bargain mining stocks almost ran away with the market yesterday. Big Jim Consolidated was the leader and was traded in throughout the day in large blocks. Fifty-one thousand shares changed hands. The first transaction was at 11 cents, but the price steadily rose until the last 2000 went over at 12 5-8 cents. There is a good deal of confidence back of the buying of this stock, and this is also true of Gold Ore Mining, of which 32,000 shares were bartered in the trading. The price ranged from 7 1-8 to 6¾ cents. In oils, National Pacific was lively around 5⅝ cents, and of the other listings there was only a moderate representation in the sales sheet, with Liberty Bonds still flabby.

There was no change yesterday in the butter market, the Produce Exchange quotations remaining firm on creamery at from 53 to 54 cents to dealers. Extra eggs and pullets advanced 2 cents the dozen, the former being quoted 45 to 47 cents per dozen and the latter 43 to 45 cents to retail dealers. Case counts remained the same at 42 to 44 cents.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Lacking more specific or definite reasons, the irregular improvement manifest in the course of today's listless stock market was popularly ascribed to betterment in the labor situation, as indicated by advices over the week-end.

This improvement extended only moderately to shippings, which continued under the influence created by latest conditions in that industry, coupled with intimations of Federal ownership.

Issuance of the January statement of the United States Steel Corporation, which disclosed a decrease of almost 700,000 tons in unfilled orders, was the one concrete development of the day.

United States Steel was well supported throughout, making its best quotation after publication of the statement, and closed at a gain of one point.

Rails were dull and devoid of feature. Sales amounted to 315,000 shares.

General news of the day included another cut in copper, a slight gain in western tonnage, and business hesitation in western and southwestern sections of the country.

New low records for Liberty second fours at 92.44 and the fourth 4 1-4's at 93.90 made for an irregular bond market. Total sales (par value) aggregated $11,250,000.

Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Final prices on Liberty Bonds today were: The 3½s, 98.89. First convertible 4s, 92.52; second 4s, 92.44. First convertible 4 1-4s, 94.96; second 4 1-4s, 92.92; third 4 1-4s, 95.02; fourth 4 1-4s, 93.96.

CORN CLOSES STRONG ON CHICAGO EXCHANGE.

COVERING BY PROFESSIONALS AND EASTERN HOUSES SENDS PRICES UP.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Selling pressure in coarse grain futures spent its force early today and sentiment changed later in the day resulting in a good advance which was well held at the last. Closing trades were at gains of ½ to 1½ cents on corn. Oats closed unchanged on the near future and ¼ to ⅝ cent higher on the distant deliveries in Chicago.

Corn in St. Louis closed ½ cent lower to 1 cent higher and Kansas City ⅛ cent lower to ¼ cent higher. Oats in the Southwest were ¼ cent to 1½ cents higher.

Houses with eastern connections and strong local professionals were active on the selling side of corn early, but later sentiment underwent considerable change as prices failed to decline as much as expected and many of the pit element took the bull side for a turn on the grounds that if prices would not decline they might advance. A rally of 2¼ to 3¼ cents followed with the close about the top. February at the last was $1.21, March $1.19, May $1.12⅝ and July $1.00¼.

Oats futures closed well towards the top with February 55¼, March 55⅝, May 56¼ and July 54⅝ cents. At one time March was a fraction over the May.

Cut open the package—and "Petite Wafers" are ready.

There is the saving of higher priced foods—meat, eggs, etc.—when more crackers are eaten.

And government reports show a higher percentage of nutriment in a pound of crackers than in meat, eggs, potatoes, rice or bread.

When Your Heart's in Your Mouth-

Then is when Tire Chains prove their Real value—they add so much to your brake power. Without them brakes would be useless.

It's these unexpected emergencies that make a driver think quick and act like lightning. When suddenly the children dash out from the pavement and are almost under your wheels before you realize it—you instinctively jam down your foot-brake and frantically grab the emergency.

What if your brakes slipped and didn't hold? Wouldn't the consequences be awful? It's positively criminal for a driver of a motor car to overlook even the slightest safety precaution. Unquestionably the most effective supplementary addition to brake power when the roads and pavements are wet and slippery, is in the use of

WEED TIRE CHAINS

Cars with chainless tires on wet-greasy-slippery pavements lack brake power to the same degree as they would if their brake linings were made of wet-greasy-slippery bands of rubber.

Wet rubber slips—never grips. It slides like a cake of soap on moistened hands. It lacks the bite and hang-on ability of chains.

It's the height of folly to even attempt to drive without chains on all four tires when the roads are slippery and uncertain.

WILL GET JOBS FOR SOLDIERS.

Community Interests League Elects its Officers.

Push Public Improvements, Pleas of Organizers.

May Form Company to Make Employment Possible.

Co-operation on the part of the business men who represent the vital interests of Los Angeles will solve the problem of finding jobs for returned sailors and soldiers, it was declared at the first conference of the thirty leading citizens appointed by Mayor Woodman as members of the League of Community Interests.

That a "hungry man is dangerous," and that to forestall uprisings bordering on the I.W.W., or Bolsheviki disturbances it will be necessary to see that dinner pails are filled, was the assertion of one member. First of all, the organization proposes, it was stated yesterday, to find jobs for Los Angeles men who return from United States service. Second, it will endeavor to get positions for the men who live elsewhere, but who are attracted here by our climate, and third, choice will be given the foreign element.

It was unanimously agreed that the most logical plan for getting jobs on a large scale will be to push public improvements. As a result an appeal will be made to the Council to hurry along all street work and similar improvements. The county authorities will be urged to supply whatever work they can and a similar appeal will be made to the State through Gov. Stephens.

SHOUP SPEAKS.

Another possible way of providing jobs was suggested by President Paul Shoup of the Pacific Electric, who advised that a committee endeavor to get wealthy men to invest their surplus capital in an enterprise that would employ a large number of men.

Mr. Shroup said it is possible to promote an enterprise that would cost $1,000,000, or maybe $2,000,000. He believes that there are men who are so patriotic that they will willingly be parties to such a project.

The League of Community Interests elected M. H. Whittier, president of the Chamber of Mines, chairman, and W. A. Barker, president of Barker Bros., vice-chairman. Lieut. Allan Herrick was elected secretary, and announcement was made that he will have a desk in the north annex of the City Hall.

Chairman Whittier appointed a special committee to prepare definite plans to be followed by the organization. The committee consists of Fred L. Baker, Seth R. Brown, H. B. Woodill, Reese Llewellyn and Watt L. Moreland.

Mayor Woodman called the meeting to order and said: "If we can get jobs for the men who are out of work we will have no trouble. I feel that the business men of Los Angeles are ready to do their part and that will be the solution to the problem."

WOULD STAY HERE.

E. H. Bagby, chairman of the Replacement Committee, said that organization had found jobs for no less than 500 returned sailors and soldiers. He stated that most of the applicants for positions, however, are men who have only recently adopted Los Angeles as their home.

Chief Butler stated he had taken up the matter with the army officials at Camp Kearny and they assure him they will do all they can to induce discharged men to go to their homes, rather than come here.

Seth R. Brown said the labor element of the community has no fault to find with the manner in which business men are treating the returned service men. He said that only four cases have been reported in which business men had refused to give former employees their old jobs and in each instance an amicable agreement was reached.

Stoddard Jess, president of the First National Bank, said the financial men of the city will co-operate in any way they can to help solve the problem and he was gratified to see the interest being taken by the men who represent all angles of business.

MAYOR AND FILM STAR TO LEAD GRAND MARCH

Combining the serious task of giving returned service men financial aid until they find employment with the pleasure of Los Angeles in showing the pride of the city in their achievements, the Los Angeles Aerie of Eagles will give a Victory Carnival at Shrine Auditorium, Washington's Birthday.

All of the money received at the carnival will go into the Eagles' soldiers' aid fund, which is to be administered by Capt. Claire Woolwine, chairman of the Financial Committee, who has just returned from service overseas. Mayor Woodman and Clara Kimball Young will lead the grand march and they will be surrounded entirely by service men.

ERNEST WILL CASE IS ENDED OUT OF COURT.

NEPHEW'S CONTEST OF WILL IN LARGE ESTATE MATTER OFF CALENDAR.

The contest over the $166,000 estate of the late Juan Ernest, scheduled to be tried in Judge Hewitt's court yesterday, has, it was announced, been settled out of court, and has gone off calendar. The contest was filed by James A. Cass, a nephew, who was left a legacy of of $100, the rest of the estate, under the will, going to the widow, Etta Billings Ernest. Mr. Ernest wrote in his will he believed his wife "knows and will carry out my wishes in the use of my estate more exactly as I desire than any other person could do."

A little more than a month after Mr. Ernest died, the will was admitted to probate, on May 10, 1916. Mr. Case asked that the probate be revoked on the ground that Mr. Ernest had been unduly influenced by Mrs. Ernest. It is averred she told him she had been sent by the spirit of her deceased father to protect him; that she would protect him if he married her and if he made his will in her favor. He married her on July 21, 1914. Mrs. Ernest denied the charges.

IS :: PLAIN :: AMERICAN :: NOW.

Nephew of Hun War Lord Changes Name.

Alfred Fairchild, ...ate Hauner.

From Alfred Hauner, scion of a noted German family, to Alfred Fairchild, plain American citizen, was a transformation accomplished by Presiding Judge Myers yesterday. Mr. Hauner is a nephew of Baron von Asch zu Asch auf Oberndorff, former Bavarian Minister of War. His father and brother are officers in the First Chevaulegers Regiment. He is the grandson of the late August Napoleon von Hauner, hygienist and philanthropist.

Through State Senator Harry Chamberlin, his attorney, Mr. Hauner petitioned the court to change his name to Fairchild. When the call for volunteers came in the Mexican crisis a few years ago he answered, and served with the First Washington Cavalry on the border. His French blood, inherited from his mother, who was related to the house of Bourbon, brings him into close touch with American ideals. He proclaims himself a hearty supporter of President Wilson's policies.

has plenty to eat, and that his physical and mental condition has improved since he has been there. She denied ever having heard of an incident previously testified to by the nurse, Harry Sterling, that Mrs. Wilson tied a cowbell around her son's neck.

WITNESS IDENTIFIED.

The name of the witness whose testimony was published in The Times of Saturday and Sunday is Merton Tyler of 721 Golden avenue, Los Angeles, former proprietor of the Atlanta Hotel, San Francisco, and of the Selwyn apartments, Los Angeles. He was a student at the University of Vermont and is now completing his medical studies here in order to secure his degree and license to practice in this State.

Mr. Tyler in his testimony stated that he had visited the sanatorium a number of times between July and September of last year; that Mrs. Wilson had wanted him to go "boosting" or shoplifting with her, and that Mrs. Wilson had told him the sanatorium was a "fence" or blind for her shoplifting and asked him to get a duplicate key to Attorney Earl Rogers's house, as there were a number of things in the house she wanted. Mrs. Wilson denies all of Tyler's charges.

The hearing will be resumed this morning before Commissioner Binford.

WHAT PATIENTS SAY.

Mrs. P. L. Fuller, business manager for Mrs. Wilson at Leaf Lodge Sanatorium, showed representatives of The Times through the institution yesterday, and said that visitors are welcome at any time, as Mrs. Wilson had nothing to conceal. There were nearly a dozen patients, nearly all men, about the place. The sanatorium consists of an administration building in which the reception-rooms and kitchen are located, and a long one-story frame building with individual rooms for patients. The patient, Nestor Hassan, said that a small bell had been tied in his button hole as a joke, and that this was the alleged cowbell incident referred to in the testimony of Nurse Sterling. Hassan said that he is happy and contented there, has plenty of food and is well cared for. Mrs. Fuller said:

"I have known Mrs. Wilson for a year and have been here for the past four months. I am a widow, and have been for years engaged in social welfare and club work in New York, my home. Mrs. Wilson, whatever her past, about which I know nothing, is certainly kind to the patients here. You can see that the place is clean and is run properly. Patients are here now sent by the leading physicians of Los Angeles. Mrs. Wilson is also opening a tubercular hospital. All of the statements made about me by the witness, Tyler, are false. I never saw him here in my life."

DROP TEACHER CHARGES

Education Board Says Case of Miss Paine is Closed.

An echo of the charges brought against Miss Alice Paine, a teacher in the public schools, by Mrs. Beatrice Chaney, who was released by the Board of Education at the first of the year after having taught in the Los Angeles schools for ten years, was heard behind closed doors last night following a regular meeting of the Board of Education. Lynn Helm, president of the board, stated after the hearing that the charges will not be further acted upon.

According to members of the board, the charges against Miss Paine were investigated at length several months ago, and none of them proved true.
